U. S. BAGS 77 PLANES AS JAPS ATTACK

KING GEORGE SEES AMERICAN TROOPS, SHIPS

Comments on U. S. African Forces' Cleanliness and Compliments Cooks.

By RELMAN MORIN
Representing the combined United States Press

Allied headquarters in North Africa, June 16—(Delayed)—Having visited the American army in training for invasion of Europe and sampled American field rations on the first two days of his North African tour, King George VI of England got around yesterday (Tuesday) to inspecting units of the combined British and American fleet in the Mediterranean and meeting the war correspondents who covered the rout of the axis in this theater.

For more than an hour the British monarch, who flew to North Africa on Saturday, walked slowly up and down a vast space covered with detachments of sailors and marines. They were drawn up in long lines that stretched all the way from the city's warehouses down to the water front.

Accompanying the king as he inspected the fighting men were two American officers, Vice Admiral H. K. Hewitt and Rear Admiral J. L. Hall.

On U. S. Warship

The king then went aboard a large American warship and reviewed the personnel, after which he entered the captain's cabin with some of the ship's officers for a 10-minute breather.

From there he went to a British warship, where more than 30 American and British correspondents were drawn up to meet him.

Each correspondent introduced himself, and from time to time as the king walked down the line of newsmen his face lighted up and he exclaimed: "I know your name very well. I have read many of your dispatches."

Leaving headquarters on Monday morning, the king spent nearly a full day with an American Army where he met Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commanding general of American combat forces in Tunisia, and Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commander of the United States 2nd Army Corps.

As he reviewed one particular group of American troops, the king remarked to Major James D. Johnston of Barium Springs, N. D., commander of the king's guard, that the men's uniforms looked unusually clean. He asked how they were able to do it amid the dust and dirt which was inevitable in all North African camps.

Johnston replied promptly: "With lots of soap and plenty of elbow grease, your majesty."

Asks About Casualties

The king asked if these units had suffered very heavy casualties in the Tunisian fighting. He said he had visited a convalescent camp the previous day and seen himself what good care the wounded were getting.

The king then placed a wreath at the base of a flagstaff in the American cemetery.

It was another big day for Sgt. Frazier Woodard of Alabama, Ga., who supervised the cooks that prepared the luncheon for President Roosevelt when he was in Africa. The Army cooks won the President's praise and the king was no less outspoken in his praise.

They prepared a luncheon that included roast beef, creamed corn, string beans, canned fruit salad and hot biscuits. Tea was served instead of coffee.

After luncheon American combat teams gave a demonstration of street fighting and others went through special training exercises.

ALLIES DESTROY 85 GERMAN PLANES

May Reach 105; Prisoner Totals in Islands Listed.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—Secretary of War Stimson disclosed today that 85, possibly 105, German fighter planes were destroyed by American and British fliers raiding Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven last Friday.

In those raids, in which he said heavy damage was caused to enemy industrial areas, the secretary added that eight Flying Fortresses were lost. Previously reports had placed the American losses at 54 craft.

Stimson also reported that the garrison of Pantelleria, Lampedusa and two other small Mediterranean islands cost "only about a dozen and a few planes." He said "substantial numbers" of the prisoners were taken—at Pantelleria they totaled 11,135 and at Lampedusa "between 4,000 and 5,000."

Missionary Society To Be in Session Four Days at Calvary Church.

With the arrival of officers, delegates, speakers and lay members the fifty-third annual convention of the Woman's Missionary society of the Ohio Branch of the Evangelical church opened today in Calvary Evangelical church.

Mrs. T. Neil Jones

Approximately 40 delegates will attend the four-day meeting and the speakers will include outstanding workers in the church and mission fields. Today and Friday will be devoted to business of the society and reports of the work, and Saturday afternoon and evening will be turned over to the young people's groups. Services on Sunday will be on the missionary theme with meetings in both the morning and afternoon.

Mrs. C. R. Beerbower of Marion, president of the state organization, will preside. In keeping with a custom established a number of years ago the Ministers Conference chorus will sing this evening, the opening night of the convention.

Officers Meet Today

Officers convened this morning at 10 o'clock for conference and resumed their work at 1:30 p. m. Registration of delegates occupied most of this afternoon, and the convention proper will open at 8 o'clock this evening, following a reception of delegates at 7 p. m.

Rev. P. E. Smoke, pastor of the host church, will conduct the worship service on the theme, "First the Kingdom," the conference chorus will sing and the address will be given by Miss Anna M. Renninger of Sinking Springs, Pa. Her subject will be "Greetings from China." Miss Renninger has been a missionary in China since 1916.

Friday's Program

The conference will open Friday morning with a prayer service at 8 o'clock and there will be committee conferences. Rev. E. E. Nietz, D. S., of Columbus, district superintendent, will conduct the communion service at 9 a. m. and Mrs. Beerbower will give her president's message on the theme, "Redeeming the Time." Mrs. C. C. Vandersall of Amherst will speak on "What Have We to Read?" and the morning session will close with annual reports and a memorial service.

Mrs. T. Neil Jones of Tallmadge, traveler will speak at the afternoon meeting on "Under the Southern Cross." Miss Anna M. Renninger will conduct the devotions and Mrs. Charles Ensign, scientific temperance instructor of the Ohio W. C. T. U., will talk on "How Alcohol Has Changed the Maps of the World." Mrs. H. M. BLOCK-BUSTER BARRAGE STILL HITTING RHINE

Other Allied Bombers Sink Three Enemy Ships in the Aegean Sea.

By The Associated Press

British block-buster armadas thundered new destruction on the German home front before dawn today, hammering the Rhineland war foundries city of Cologne for the 116th time, while RAF fighters shot up transport and other targets in Nazi-occupied Holland and Belgium.

By daylight, allied planes carried on the round-the-clock offensive across the English channel and destroyed six axis fighters against a loss of one RAF aircraft.

Fourteen RAF bombers and one fighter were listed as missing in the night's operations.

In the Mediterranean, allied long-range fighters attacking from bases in the middle east sank three more enemy ships in the Aegean Sea, while the mass of Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz' northwest Africa air force took a day off after violent assaults Tuesday on five axis airdromes in Sicily.

Swift RAF Mosquito bombers from Malta continued to blast Sicily and southern Italy during the night, pouring cannon and machine-gun fire into road transport, rail targets, bridges and military hut camps.

"A destroyer escorting a convoy was gunned, causing a brilliant flash astern," the British announced.

A Moscow broadcast said Premier Mussolini's high command had started withdrawing demoralized Italian troops from Sicily and Sardinia "under the pretext of regrouping its forces.

Dispatches from La Linea, Spain, again reported a big-scale massing of allied ships at Gibraltar, declaring that 75 vessels including a battleship, two aircraft carriers and 10 destroyers were lying off "The Rock."

Other war headlines:

Invasion Jitters—Berlin broadcast betrays nervousness over possible allied invasion of Balkans; Ankara confirms sealing of Turkish-Syrian frontier "to protect troop movements" in Syria; Rumania, Hungary reported angling to quit axis.

German Peace Feeler—Soviet minister to Sweden brands talk of German-Russian peace parley as "German propaganda lie."

Italy—Premier Mussolini ousts six more Fascist national councillors in continuing shakeup; London hears Italians frenziedly applauded every mention of peace in address of Pope Pius XII.

Russia—New flashes flare on long-quiet Smolensk front.

Southwest Pacific—Gen. MacArthur's bombers fly more than 1,000 miles to blast Japanese base at Kendari, Dutch Celebes; Japanese reported building up air strength in New Guinea, New Britain and northern Solomons.

Burma—Allied bombers pound five Japanese bases.

In the European theater, while Rome and Berlin rang the changes on prospects of the "zero hour" approaching for an allied invasion, the spotlight shifted momentarily from Sicily, Sardinia and Italy to the eastern Mediterranean and the Balkans.

An Algiers broadcast reported that Turkey, still neutral but recently swinging toward the allied camp, had broken off diplomatic relations with the pro-Nazi government of France.

The Algiers report lacked immediate confirmation, but Berlin asserted yesterday that Britain was "trying to bring Turkey in on her side."

SAY ROLLBACK TAKES BUTTER OFF MARKET

Dairy Trade Declares Stocks Go to Government Agency.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 17—Dairy trade sources today said a huge increase in cold storage stocks of butter during the past month, as revealed by department of agriculture figures, indicated large quantities of the commodity had been removed from consumer channels as a result of price rollbacks.

Heavy supplies of butter were sold to the Dairy Products Marketing association, a government financed agency, dairy men said, and therefore were taken out of retail channels. These stocks now are owned by the DPMA, or by other government agencies to which they have been transferred.

Cold storage warehouse stocks of butter on June 1 totaled 82,666,000 pounds, almost three times as large as the 30,190,000 pounds in warehouses a month earlier and the largest for any June 1 since 1939. While the seasonal trend is upward from May to June, dairy men said this alone could not account for the increase in view of the strong domestic demand.

The government got the butter, dairy men said, because at the time the rollback was placed in effect, no provision was made for subsidy payments to owners of butter in transit or already in warehouses this. This butter had been purchased from producers on the basis of pre-roll-back retail prices.

Rather than sell the butter to consumer outlets at a loss, owners turned it over to the DPMA. The roll-back price on 92 score butter was 41 cents a pound, but the DPMA was willing to pay 46 cents a pound. Consequently, butter which would have gone to consumers went to the agency, dairy men asserted.

Richwood Fair Board Cancels Event for 1943

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, June 17—Officers of the Richwood fair board have decided to call off the fair this year, it was announced Wednesday. The fair was scheduled July 27-30.

Pressure of farm work, difficulty of travel, obtaining concessions and race entries was given as the reason for calling off the exposition. This will leave only one fair in the county, that of Marysville Oct. 5-8.

Turkey Reported To Have Broken Vichy Relations

[BULLETIN]

By The Associated Press

BERN, Switzerland, June 17—Ambassador Behij of Turkey has been recalled to Ankara from Vichy in protest against recent severe gestapo restrictions upon his embassy, a Turkish diplomatic source said today.

* * *

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 17 — An Algiers radio broadcast recorded by The Associated Press said today Turkey had broken off diplomatic relations with the Vichy government of France.

Turkey was reported to have recalled her ambassador from the Nazi-dominated French capital.

The Algiers radio, which has not always proved strictly accurate in its reports of political developments, did not go into detail. There was no direct confirmation from Ankara or Vichy.

London diplomatic quarters which normally would be informed of any such break could not confirm the report

SOMETHING MORE TO WORRY AXIS. More food for thought for the axis is provided in confirmed reports from London that the border between Turkey and Syria has been closed, possibly to prevent news of movements of large numbers of British and American troops from reaching the axis. The border is indicated by the heavy black line on this map. The report added to axis anxiety over possible invasion.

Cloudbursts Leave Trail Of Heavy Loss in State

Railroads, Traffic and Power Service Hit; Cleveland Suffers Heaviest Damage But Other Areas Swept.

By The Associated Press

Wind-lashed cloudbursts, accompanied by lightning, wrought severe damage in scattered sections of Ohio last night.

The worst destruction was reported in Cleveland where an electrical-rain storm tied up rail and bus traffic, plunged suburban Fairview village and Garfield Heights into darkness for several hours and flooded streets and basements. Cleveland's damage was estimated at $250,000.

Two bridges were closed by washouts and the Pennsylvania and Nickel Plate railroad lines reported traffic impeded as the downpour flooded their yards.

Lightning struck a street car and bus, but no passengers were hurt.

Wall Crushes Garages

The heavy rainfall caused a retaining wall at Benedictine High school to collapse, crushing garages housing eight automobiles and starting a fire in a six family apartment house. Battalion Chief Clarence E. Ryan said the blaze caused $4,500 worth of damage.

Pennsylvania railroad officials said 20 inches of water covered the main tracks in the road's yard at East 93rd street and Kinsman road, blocking traffic for more than two hours. Several tracks were washed out and the roundhouse flooded.

Nickel Plate schedules fell an hour behind when water interfered with the block signal system.

Streets in the Kinsman road area were turned into torrents as sewers were unable to carry away the runoff. Water gushed up through manholes and trapped motorists in their cars.

Widespread damage from rain, wind and lightning also was reported in Zanesville, Newark and Cincinnati.

100 Trees Uprooted

More than 100 trees were uprooted at Zanesville, several of them damaging buildings in falling.

A large oak tree crashed against a two-story double house and moved it several inches. A branch ripped through the roof of the Keck Funeral home and falling trees damaged the roof of the dance hall and another building at Moxahala park, west of Zanesville.

Heavy rain flooded streets and cellars in south Newark. Water a foot deep backed up in the basement of Newark City hospital. Four homes were struck by lightning there, but no one was hurt.

A downpour flooded streets and delayed traffic in Cincinnati. Lightning struck a transformer at

Part-Time Volunteers For Farm Work Sought in County

Marion county farm officials have taken preliminary steps toward prevention of a farm labor shortage that they believe may become acute within the next few weeks.

In addition to full time and part time farm laborers already secured by O. E. Barks, special farm labor assistant to Arthur Smith, county agricultural extension agent, some 50 emergency workers may be needed before July 1. About that time, there will be much hay harvesting.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Barks have sent out request for Marion businessmen or any other citizens, preferably males, to register at the agricultural extension office in the basement of the post office building for emergency farm jobs. These registrants probably will not be called for farm duty immediately after they sign up but will be used whenever the occasion warrants their services.

These workers will be assigned to jobs to suit their own convenience as to time and type of work. Mr. Smith explains that even if these city men work only a few hours, they will aid farmers greatly in solving their labor problem.

Marion men wishing to aid farmers in harvesting their crops should register with Mr. Smith in the postoffice building or sign up with Mr. Barks, who is in Mr. Smith's office every Friday night from 8 to 10 o'clock.

HITS CORN-HOG PRICE PROBLEM

Ohio Director of Agriculture Sends Vigorous Protest to U. S. Food Chief.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—OPA ceiling prices have established a ratio between hog and corn prices that threatens to compel livestock feed manufacturers to suspend operations, State Agriculture Director John T. Brown asserted today in a letter to Food Administrator Chester C. Davis.

Brown wrote Davis because an Ohio feed manufacturer reported that farmers were refusing to part with stored corn at ceiling prices, choosing to feed the grain to pigs and eventually take advantage of the higher pork ceiling.

"I wish to call your attention to a most critical situation confronting the manufacturers of livestock feed in Ohio," Brown wrote.

"This has been in the offing for months because of the maladjustment of ceiling prices set up by OPA for grain and livestock prices.

"The corn-hog ratio now prevailing has slowly but surely resulted in freezing grain in storage and now feed manufacturers are face to face with shutting down their plants because they cannot buy loose any corn.

"Unless something is done forthwith to readjust ceiling prices responsible for this tragic situation, necessary processed feed will not be on the market to finish the chicks, pig and other livestock. The inevitable result will force a flood of half-finished meat animals and poultry to be sacrificed to the detriment of producer and consumer alike."

J. G. STARK, FORMER SHERIFF HERE, DIES

Victim of Pneumonia; Burial To Be in California.

John G. Stark of Santa Monica, Calif., former Marion county sheriff, died of pneumonia in a hospital in that city, Wednesday. He had been in failing health for more than two years.

He was born in Marion county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Stark.

Mr. Stark served two terms as sheriff of Marion county approximately 30 years ago. Prior to moving to California about 18 years ago he was a partner in the Marion Grain & Hay Co. Until his retirement several years ago he was engaged in the real estate business in Santa Monica. He was a member of St. Mary Catholic church here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark visited relatives and friends here for a month last October.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Helen Burke Stark, three daughters, Mrs. William Lane and Mrs. George Drake of Los Angeles, Calif., and Miss Isabelle Stark at home, and four sisters, Mrs. Frank Whipfler of Stark court, Mrs. D. O. Drake and Mrs. M. M. Mohr of South State street, and Mrs. Arthur Leser of Upper Sandusky.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at Santa Monica and burial will be made at that place. The family home is at 1015½ Seventeenth street in Santa Monica.

AMERICAN LOSS IN BIG BATTLE ONLY 6 PLANES

One of Most Decisive Air Victories of Guadalcanal Area Scored Wednesday.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — In one of the great air battles of the Pacific, American planes shot down 77 Japanese aircraft over Guadalcanal island Wednesday while losing six of their own number, the Navy announced today.

Never before had the enemy's air losses in the Guadalcanal area been so heavy. The 77 total was almost exactly twice that of the Japanese losses last April 7 when 39 enemy craft were destroyed during a single raid.

"Navy communique No. 415 said:

"South Pacific:

"1. A brief report received from the South Pacific reveals that in an air battle over Guadalcanal island on June 16 United States planes shot down 32 Japanese bombers and 45 Zero fighters. Six United States planes are missing.

"2. No further details have been received."

The description of the American planes as "missing" suggested that some of them, or at least some of their pilots, might turn up later.

13 to 1 Score

The 13 to 1 score turned in by American combat fliers in the Solomons, who have in the past included Army, Navy and Marine pilots, was one of the best, possibly the best, ever recorded in a single action.

In the action of April 7 the Japanese attacked shipping at Guadalcanal with 98 planes, including 50 bombers, and while they lost 39, American losses were three ships and seven planes. Only two American pilots failed to return from their crashed craft, however.

The latest raid in the Guadalcanal area prior to Wednesday's action was on last Saturday when the Japanese sent a force of 40 to 50 fighter planes into the vicinity of the Russell Islands, American air base territory lying immediately north of Guadalcanal. Their move then appeared to be aimed at winning aerial supremacy by overwhelming American fighter plane forces and driving them from the skies, thereby laying American ground installations open to a smothering assault. As it turned out the Japanese had 25 planes definitely shot down and eight probably. American losses were six planes and two pilots.

Use Escorts Again

The make-up of the enemy force in the Wednesday battle suggested that the Japanese had returned to their earlier tactics of fighters escorting bombers, after their Saturday thrust with fighters alone failed so completely.

It was not clear, however, on the basis of available information why the Japanese should be directing air forces of such considerable size and suffering losses at so great a rate into the Guadalcanal area.

One explanation widely mentioned in speculation here is that the Japanese believe Guadalcanal will play an important role in the next big American push and are trying to disrupt operations there as much as possible, primarily as a defensive measure.

Auto Industry's Output Doubles Peacetime Level

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 17 — The automotive industry's production of war material currently is double the highest level of civilian output it ever attained and an ever-increasing volume of such production may be expected despite the drain on its manpower resources by the armed forces, the Automotive Council for War Production was told today.

(Figures recently released by the council placed the war goods production rate at approximately $8,000,000,000 annually.)

Reporting to the annual meeting of the industry's wartime organization, Alvan Macauley, president of the council, said that war production had doubled in 12 months and that a million and a quarter men and women are enrolled in the industry's army of war workers.

YOUNG BRITONS TRAIN FOR INVASION BLOW

Hundreds Get Set for Assault Landings in Small Craft.

By The Associated Press

ON ENGLAND'S SOUTH COAST, June 17—When the hour of invasion strikes, the age name of a Navy image famous by men like Drake and Nelson will rest for one climactic moment in the hands of purposeful young Yorkshire farm lands and London truck drivers who have been building the new naval assault tradition with Dieppe and North Africa for a starter.

These recruits—mostly men of last year's draft—have been training by the hundreds at requisitioned coastal camps to man the rapidly increasing fleet of assault craft landing craft for men and tanks which is being turned out in both Britain and the United States.

[illegible] will be the task of four men, working in crews of four, five or 10, to get the assault forces ashore and [illegible] beachhead for reinforcements during the zero hour for invasion itself.

There is a new service born of amphibious [illegible] need and built up almost entirely since Dunkirk. They do [illegible] port or blockade [illegible] only to attack—and to that end above are they being trained.

Flat wooden landing craft have been used [illegible] fully but now most of the British and American output is devoted to light steel craft built to skim into shallow water where destroyers cannot go, slide their drawbridge prows onto the beach and pull off again with kedge anchors dropped on their way in through the surf.

Many craft seen here, infantry, tank and bren gun carrier landing boats—are American made.

Withholding Tax Not Likely To Hinder War Bond Buying

CLEVELAND, June 17 — The [illegible] withholding tax [illegible] after July 1, is not expected to affect or hinder the sale of purchases of War Bond [illegible] currently underway by the public, Harold H. Bredlow, executive secretary of the Ohio War Savings Staff, said today.

Mr. Bredlow based his statement on the fact that the new withholding tax will not be an additional tax but merely a means of collecting collections against tax obligations already paid in annual or quarterly installments.

We do not expect any falling-off in other [illegible]-counter sales or in plants where payroll deduction plans for War Bond purchases are in operation," Mr. Bredlow said.

"The new tax is not a flat 20 per cent tax, but 20 per cent on that portion of income in excess of allowable exemptions. The 20 per cent includes 17 per cent for income tax and 3 per cent for victory taxes."

There will be no separate collections of the Victory tax after July 1, except for persons subject only to the Victory tax, Mr. Bredlow explained.

To show that the new tax is not so bad when you see the actual deduction figures, Mr. Bredlow cited the following example:

Mr. AB is married and has two children. His exemption will be $36 per week. If Mr. AB earns $40 per week, the deduction will be only 80c (20 per cent of $4). If he earns $50 weekly, $2.80 will be deducted.

The $2.80 is but 90c more than he has been paying for Victory tax and his income tax will be paid up currently.

A simplified table that shows the amounts, at various wage levels and with allowable exemptions, that will be deducted [illegible] as shown below.

Weekly Earning	Single Person	Married No Deps.	Married 1 Dep.	Married 2 Deps.	Married 3 Deps.	Married 4 Deps.	Married 5 Deps.

90	15 60	13 20	12 00	10 80	9 60	8.40	7 20
100	17 60	15 20	14 00	12 80	11 60	10 40	9 20

(The above table takes into account family status exemptions only. In the final reckoning, allowance will be made for other allowable exemptions as in the past.)

"Workers in Ohio and throughout the nation have established a fine record for purchasing War Bonds under the payroll savings plan," Mr. Bredlow said. "However, we cannot stop here, but must go forward and achieve even higher sights to ward off the dangers of inflation and to finance the offensive drives of our men overseas."

DAVIS TELLS OF BIG PROPAGANDA EFFORT

Leaflet Barrages Behind Lines of Enemy Part of OWI Work.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—Details of a gigantic propaganda campaign, ranging from a saturation of American or Allied [illegible] in Africa to leaflet barrages behind enemy lines were included yesterday by the house appropriations committee [illegible] recommended a fund [illegible] $34,472,564 for operations of the office of war information (OWI) for the next fiscal year.

How OWI hopes to beat down resistance in enemy lands was explained in detail by Elmer Davis, OWI head, during hearings on the bill.

While indicating it was impressed by OWI'S contribution to the war of nerves, the committee halved Davis' request for a special $10,000,000 fund to be used in a new propaganda campaign.

"As offensive military action brings new territory over to the United Nations," Davis told the committee, "we shall put men on the ground operating printing presses, disseminating news, helping the Army carry on combat propaganda, and hitting the enemy behind the lines with everything we can to increase the tempo of his demoralization, as has been done successfully in Tunisia."

PHYSICAL FITNESS AIM OF NEW AGENCY

Amateur Sports in Schools, Colleges To Be Expanded.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—A campaign to get young Americans busy on body-building activities through amateur sports was discussed yesterday at the first meeting of the federal security agency's (FSA) new committee on physical fitness.

Objective of the 12-member committee and the "war time council on physical fitness" to be organized along with it, were given by FSA Administrator Paul V. McNutt as:

"To promote the fullest assumption of responsibility for physical fitness in schools and colleges, in the various (federal) programming agencies interested in this field, and the establishment of effective state and community organization."

Members of the committee, named by McNutt, include George M. Trautman, president of baseball's American Association.

4-H ENROLLMENT UP IN COUNTY THIS YEAR

55.6 Per Cent Increase Shown in Annual Report.

A total of 585 Marion county boys and girls, or a 55.6 per cent increase over last year, enrolled in 4-H clubs this year, the annual report of the county agricultural extension office shows. This report was sent to the Ohio State university extension headquarters Tuesday by Arthur Smith, county farm agent.

Of this total, 174 were enrolled in boys' clubs and 202 in girls' organizations. The boys' enrollment represented a 53.4 per cent increase over last year while the girls' clubs were up 57.4 per cent from 1942 figures. The report also showed a total of 31 4-H groups in the county this year. Eighteen of these were girls' clubs and 13 boys'.

Aerial Gunner, 16, Sent Home After Year in Service

By The Associated Press

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN AIR BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, June 17—Staff Sergeant Clifford R. Wherley of Elmwood, Ill., turret gunner of a B-26 Martin Marauder with more than 100 combat hours to his credit, is retiring from the war at the ripe old age of 16—by parental request and with government consent.

Four times decorated, he is being sent back home by the Army because he still is two years too young to be fighting in a man's war. Moreover, the Army noted that he "stretched" his age four years—from 14 to the legal 18—when he enlisted on April Fool's day in 1942.

This was discovered recently when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wherley of Elmwood, wrote to the war department that they thought their son was too young to be in combat. He had been telling them in his letters about the excitement of fighting in flak-filled skies over Tunisia, Pantelleria, Sicily and Sardinia, they said.

The young gunner, who has been on 21 combat missions, got the bad news that he was through when his group adjutant called him in and read aloud a red-bordered "immediate action" report.

The report noted that the correct date of his birth was May 28, 1927, and ordered his return to the United States "for dis-

Y CLUB MEMBERS VISIT RESERVATION

Nature Study Class Held at County Game Center.

Members of the Pioneers' club of the Y. M. C. A. participated in constructive natural conservation work in the second of a series of Y nature classes held at a county game reservation near Green Camp yesterday.

Under the instruction of O. H. Neimeyer, state game warden of Marion county, some 10 Pioneer boys planted several trees on the reservation. In addition they studied various forms of bird and animal life. They observed the peculiarities and traits of numerous members of the animal, bird and insect worlds.

These educational and constructive methods of conducting the Y nature classes will be continued throughout the summer by Mr. Neimeyer and Max Sechrist, boys' summer program director. The Friendly Indians will do their studying on Saturday's and Pioneers on Wednesdays. Most of the county game reservations will be used for the classes.

The Friendly Indian club has been divided into several tribes by Sechrist in order to have easier-taught small groups of boys for the nature classes.

A meeting of all Gra-Y clubs will be held Monday in the boys' club room in the basement of the Y. At that time final plans and policies for the extensive physical and educational summer program will be made.

U. S. DEATH RATE AT LOW MARK IN 1942

Lowest Level Ever Reported Is Listed by Surgeon General.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 15—The general death rate in the United States dropped in 1942 to the lowest level ever recorded.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general, told the house appropriations committee the rate last year was 10.3 per 1,000 population, compared to 10.5 in 1941, as shown in provisional data.

"It is probable," he said, "that final figures will also show a decrease in maternal mortality for the 13th consecutive year, reaching an all-time low of about or less than three deaths per 1,000 births.

"Infant mortality decreased to 40 or 41 per 1,000 live births in 1942, as compared with 45 in 1941. At the same time the birth rate rose from 18.7 per 1,000 population in 1941 to 20.7 in 1942."

The increase of fatal accidents in industry almost offset the reduction in deaths from automobile accidents.

Col. C. B. Shaffer, commanding officer of the depot, said the public was permitted to view the equipment until 11 o'clock last night. It was opened shortly before 11 a. m. yesterday.

A total of 19 pieces of equipment, including various types of trucks, cranes, trailers and other Army machinery used at the depot was publicly displayed here for the first time.

On duty to explain the various units was a company of 10 soldiers from the railroad engineer batallion headquarters at Camp Millard near Bucyrus. The guard company maintained a 24-hour watch.

Arrangements for the show were made by a committee headed by Col. Shaffer, Lt. Col. A. L. Fabens, area engineer stationed at the Scioto Ordinance Plant, and Col. Frank E. Cheshire, commanding officer of Camp Millard. They were assisted by other members of the corps of engineers stationed in the Marion area.

Predicts Japan Will Fall Soon After Hitler

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 17—H. V. Evatt, Australian minister for external affairs, expressed the belief today that Japan would collapse quickly after Adolf Hitler is defeated. Evatt said he believed that by the economical employment of the increasing allied resources the "interval between the defeat of Hitler and the defeat of Japan can be made short, if indeed there need be any interval at all."

VIEW OF WOOLLEY PARK ENTRANCE

* * *

The date has been set for the annual Ashley Spiritualist Camp to be held at Woolley Park at Ashley, H. B. Creekbaum, president of the camp board, has announced. The camp will open July 4 and run through August 29.

Some of the country's outstanding spiritualists have been secured this season for platform services, Mr. Creekbaum said, and they will also be available for light and dark seances or private readings.

Cottages and rooms are available at the camp or arrangements can be made for rooms in the village if guests desire. Anyone wishing to spend a vacation or any length of time at the camp are requested to write the secretary, Miss C. V. Williams at 511 Olney avenue, and arrangements will be made.

New Food Arrangement

This season the dining hall is being opened as a community kitchen for those wishing to prepare their own meals. The use of the facilities of the kitchen will be free. Guests may bring their ration books or their own food and picnic inside.

There will be a dedication of Beech Temple Rostrum on the opening Sunday, July 4th. A statewide picnic will be conducted on the last Sunday, August 29th.

Those who will give lectures and messages throughout the season are: Rev. Nellie Brown of Columbus, Rev. Martha Haupt of Newport, Ky., Rev. Anne K. Keiser of Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Agnes Vanscyoc of Springfield, Rev. Gertrude Rowe of Jersey City, N. J., Rev. Lester Miller of Wheeling, W. Va., Rev. H. L. Bowman of Youngstown, Rev. Lena Drews of Cicero, Ill.; Rev. Dr. Jesse Swank

DR. JESSE SWANK, whose more than a half century as a minister of the Gospel included 10 years in Marion, possessed all the qualities essential for perfect service in that most important of all professions.

First of all he was, of course, deeply religious, and that spirit motivated him in all his activities and human contacts. Those contacts were innumerable, much more so than is the case with most men in any business or profession, including those of his own high calling. He met people, thousands of them, not only in churches, but in other places of assembly, and on the highways and byways. And always he made friends of those he met, for his was a warm and sympathetic personality, the kind that made friends and held them.

He liked people and they liked him. But more than this, those who made his acquaintance became better men and women for having met him and talked with him, and thus his ministry was effective day after day as he exemplified his religion by his interest in people and their welfare.

It can truly be said that Dr. Swank was one of the most beloved clergymen in Marion's history. This was evident from the earliest days of his ministry in Marion and the feeling of affection and esteem had reached community-wide extent when duty called him elsewhere after his 10 years of residence here.

In other Ohio communities where he lived and served as a minister he was held in the same high regard. So in these localities, as well as in Marion, there are thousands who mourn the death of this great and good man but who are happy in the knowledge that they knew him in life and thus had their own lives enriched.

How Not To Bolster Morale

IN THE language of the fellow who said things were in status quo, a fancy phrase for a mess, the food prospect is in status quo.

The country has waited patiently for signs of some kind of a master plan to deal with the obviously worsening food problem, but what it has received is more reports that the problem is every bit as tough as it is said to be.

The country has waited for the politicians and professors in Washington to shake the star dust out of their hair and start listening to the advice of some of the people who know what the dirt farmers are up against, but instead there has been a lot of sound and fury signifying nothing.

It waited a long time for the war planners to tumble to the fact that selective service boards and war boom wages might lose the war of industrial production by losing the war of agricultural production, and it isn't sure they understand it yet.

It has waited for something to be done about making farm machinery available where and when it is needed urgently, but what it has been getting is that there will be plenty of machinery available sometime in the future.

In short, while the United States has been waiting for agriculture to be dealt with as a major problem, like production of bombers or ships, it has been confronted at every turn with signs that the government was continuing to approach it either as a dance on political eggs, or as a matter to be handled through a volunteer army of apple-cheeked adolescents. Perhaps in the future the administration will do better, but so far its handling of food production in wartime has been a clear lesson in how not to bolster morale.

From now on there needs to be less attention to "When do we vote?" and "When do we make over the economic system?" and a lot more attention to "When do we eat?" Before this time a year from now, by the government's own admission, that probably will become the most important question of all. Americans aren't going to starve, but they are going to learn about the importance of farming the hard way.

Unity by Conviction

WHILE the supreme court's reversal of a previous decision upholding the constitutionality of the flag salute is concerned less with the problem of unity than the problem of creating an appearance of unity, its reasoning that unity can not be compelled is unassailable. Nazi Germany may succeed in making a whole nation do its heil Hitlers by rote, but no one will argue that Germans have been united by that formality.

Patriotism by personal conviction is as much a part of the American credo as free speech. In the case of the religious sect whose refusal to salute the flag on religious grounds has been a troublesome issue, there is no evidence that refusal to accede in a formality has been injurious to patriotism. Rather, it has been offensive to the patriotic sensibilities of other patriots, which is another matter entirely.

The court's reversal removes from further argument an issue that had created more disunity by far than the original provocation.

SIZEABLE ASSIGNMENT

If we are going to take the responsibility of feeding and rebuilding all the countries occupied by our armies and Allies, I can see that we are going to be pretty well occupied ourselves. —Winter Haven Herald.

News Behind the News

Smith-Connally Anti-Strike Bill Is Forerunner to Long Labor War.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 17—Everyone has been making loud charges about the Smith-Connally anti-strike bill, but no one has been advertising what is in the bill.

CIO's Mr. Murray was heard in every radio loud-speaker saying it "would cripple the war" and destroy worker security." AFL's Bill Green is mimeographing almost daily the contention that it is "fascism" and would "destroy the workers' war morale."

If any of these accusations were correct the legislation was certainly bad, because no one wants such results. But Messrs. Murray and Green are unspecific in their charges. They do not point to any provisions of the bill, to justify such conclusions.

The bill does not prevent strikes. It is not a permanent bill. The machinery which it hands the President would be dismantled automatically six months after the war is ended.

Every rule and regulation it proposes would then end, except-ing (perhaps the one denying unions the right to make presidential and congressional campaign contributions. But this possibly permanent provision also directs that no bank or corporation make any contribution to any political campaign, even the state and local election disputes to which the labor unions could continue to contribute.

This new Smith-Connally effort to hinder strikes would not be applicable, furthermore, unless the President, the labor conciliation service, or the war labor board found that the war effort was being seriously impeded. It is further restricted to essential war manufacturing. In such plants the labor leaders would be required to notify the war labor board of impending labor difficulties, or the conciliation service would notify the board of a threatened strike. On the fortieth day thereafter, the workers of the plant would hold a secret election on whether or not they would strike. If they voted to strike, they could.

Beyond this in vital cases, the President could stop a strike by taking over the plant, but even then the workers could get a wage increase or other new privileges out of the war labor board. If the President takes over the plant, the labor leaders (no individual) would then be prevented from promoting a strike under penalty of a $5,000 fine or two years imprisonment.

Briefly, that is all there is to it. The bill is moderate in tone and, in one place, even admonishes the board "to be fair to both the employer and the employee." Obviously, no one can get much "fascism," "cripple the war," or "breakdown of workers' morale" out of the provisions of the legislation.

Why then are Murray and Green so excited? Well, one excuse may be that this is the first amendment to the Wagner act or any of the predominately pro-union bills enacted since the start of the New Deal. All previous legislation of this era has been dictated by labor without regard to the interests of anyone else.

Perhaps they fear that this first correction of their newly established code, though merely for the purposes of war, will lead to further efforts to correct equally gross abuses which they have been unable or unwilling to correct in their own ranks (racketeering, secrecy of labor treasuries, etc.)

No dominating political group likes to let anything pass concerning it unless by its direction. They are all jealous of their controlling "prerogatives" even in matters which are not essential.

These considerations must have led Green and Murray to make far more out of the bill in propaganda efforts to get the President to veto it, than seems justified by the provisions of the legislation.

They still control the labor board and all the government labor machinery here and could just as easily have espoused this bill themselves, as far as any of their basic rights appear (to an unconcerned observer) to be involved.

The course they chose suggests they do not intend to give an inch anywhere, and will not assume, or let the government assume, the responsibility (which is primarily theirs) of correcting the most flagrant and unpatriotic

THIS LITTLE PIG GETS NONE

Russia's Vodka Powerful

Houses Disappear Under Its Influence, Writer Declares.

A disappearing house and a threatening stage-German are some of the results produced by vodka, Russia's national drink, says Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press correspondent, who has just spent nearly two years in Moscow.

By EDDIE GILMORE

NEW YORK, June 17—Vodka is the national firewater of Russia, but that doesn't mean that all that the Russians do is sit around and drink it, any more than Pennsylvanians just sit around and drink Pennsylvania rye.

Vodka has been associated with Russians for many, many years. The reason is very simple. Vodka is made from potatoes, the Russians have potatoes, and the Russians do not object to the taste of this drink which is made from the potato.

Russians, like Americans, are fond of banquets and dinners, and when the Russians have a banquet or a dinner there are many toasts. Right now the great majority of them are on the theme of lasting American-Russian friendship.

Simple Procedure

It is much simpler than you might think. Someone proposes a toast to something, and the first thing you know you're on your feet with a glass of vodka in your hand. You then clink glasses and knock back the whole glass in one swallow. Then you sit down and eat something, and I might add, the quicker the better.

Russians will never drink without eating, which I have discovered is a very sound theory. As a very wise Russian once said: "When you drink vodka, eat tobalsk cakes, they sop it up."

There have been some foreigners, who failing to follow sound Russian advice on how to drink Vodka, have lost some bitter rounds to the spirit in the little white bottle.

I once saw a very eminent European novelist at a banquet down in the Don Cossack country. He had failed to match his drinking with his eating. After the meal he asked for some air and a Red army man kindly helped him out.

This eminent author took several large drafts of it (air) and then turned to go back into the house.

"Where is it?" he asked in open mouthed amazement despite the fact it was broad daylight and he was less than ten feet away.

"The door?" said the Red army man. "Why, here it is."

"Door, nothing," answered the eminent author, "I'm looking for the house."

Not Plentiful Now

Vodka is not easy to get in Russia right now. The factories are turning out more essential things for war, but Vodka, of course, is being turned out. It is regularly issued to the army.

At an army anti-aircraft station one time I saw a very hardy Australian newspaperman, one of the quietest, most dignified men I know, lose a very bad round to the little spirit.

It was after a banquet of about 15 toasts. The attraction was an entertainment put on by the soldiers. The first scene was a play in which a Russian played the part of a German officer.

It was too realistic for the vodka-fortified Australian. He rose in his chair and ran for the stage, shaking his fists and yelling "Lemme at that German!"

Lots of soldiers would have been sore, but not the Russians. They were convinced they had been good hosts. They laughed and quietly led their noisy guest back to his seat.

On other occasions vodka makes you sad. Oh, so very sad.

That's when you try to sing Russian gypsy songs and get the words all wrong and the tune worse. And again your hosts don't get sore. They understand the spirit in the little white bottle. They've known him a long, long time.

Trimming America's Three Squares

By John B. Lewis

Associated Press News Analyst.

EVERY report from the food front indicates the United States, long the home of "three square meals a day," will be forced to change the eating habits of generations and accept many foods which are different but still basically nutritious.

Beginning next winter, and perhaps continuing for a period of from four to six years, the chemistry of the kitchen will require the utmost skill of housewives to make a whole, new pattern of palatable menus.

Reports of declining crops by the department of agriculture have brought the food crisis to the forefront of national attention and clinched the arguments of food authorities that reeducation of Americans regarding food is a vital necessity.

War Food Administrator Chester C. Davis has called attention to recent serious weather damage to crops and asked consumers to "conserve every scrap of food and to waste nothing." Americans are still reported to be throwing away seven per cent of perfectly edible food, due to ignorance in knowing how to use it.

In New York State, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's emergency food commission said that in conformity with experience in former wars "the nation will have to shift from a meat to a grain diet."

"Even a casual study of probable food production in the United States," the commission added, "indicates clearly that we cannot feed millions of people in addition to ourselves on the kind of diet to which we have been accustomed."

The report of 1943 crop indications by the department of agriculture showing that production of wheat, rye, oats, barley, peaches and pears is expected to fall well below last year's bumper crops only tells part of the critical food story.

Food Administrator Davis told a conference in New York last week that every Allied victory on the European front would bring greater, not lesser, demand for overseas shipments of foods, and that with every military success the correct management of food will become more important and difficult.

FORMER President Herbert Hoover, who handled the critical food problems of Europe after the last war, with American aid, told the American Farm Bureau federation of the northeast states last week it was time to start planning now for the 1944 crop and suggested that farm manpower be increased over the pre-war level so that 40 to 50 million more acres of land could be planted to meet tremendously increasing pressure from food supplies abroad.

"We have now eaten our way to the end of the bumper 1942 crop," Mr. Hoover said.

The Farm Bureau federation concluded its New York conference with these recommendations:

Consolidation of all authority over food in one man—Food Administrator Davis; a more-flexible price policy; revision of the live stock feed policy; adequate supplies of farm machinery.

Some authorities predict that production of food will drop from 10 to 25 per cent this year because of bad weather and the many-sided problems of the farmers.

Faced with definite prospects of a production slump, Director Roy F. Hendrickson of the food distribution administration said this week that the government will need "about one-fourth of all food produced this year as against one-eighth last year."

Looking at their grimmest problems in years, food distributors said the possibility of a 50 per cent reduction in the supply of food for civilians would cause a violent setback in eating habits "far beyond those encountered in today's market shortages."

Some progress has been made in converting Americans to nutritious, basic foods" through the widespread use of a government campaign urging everyone to eat portions of seven basic foods each day.

These are: 1—Green and yellow vegetable. 2—Oranges, tomatoes, grapefruit and raw cabbage. 3—Potatoes and vegetables. 4—Milk and milk products. 5—Meat, poultry, fish and eggs, or, if these are not procurable, dried beans, peas and nuts. 6—Bread, flour, cereals. 7—Butter and vitamin enriched margarine.

A "soybean steak," said one officials, "is no longer a dietary monstrosity. It's a nutritional necessity."

As though in confirmation of this statement, a confidential survey by the meat packing industry reveals that the slaughter of federally-inspected beef animals is running 23 per cent behind the corresponding figure for 1942.

WASHINGTON food officials have quietly spread the word that it will require all the assistance of the information and advertising brains of the nation to help change the eating habits of the nation.

Filling foods and types of food "that stick to your ribs" are being advertised for consumption in large quantities.

Delusions which government authorities say must be broken down include the following:

That the Allies could somehow retain their physical vigor without American food. The United States, officials say, is the only possible source of the extra nourishment that has bolstered the British army and civilians and the Russian fighting forces.

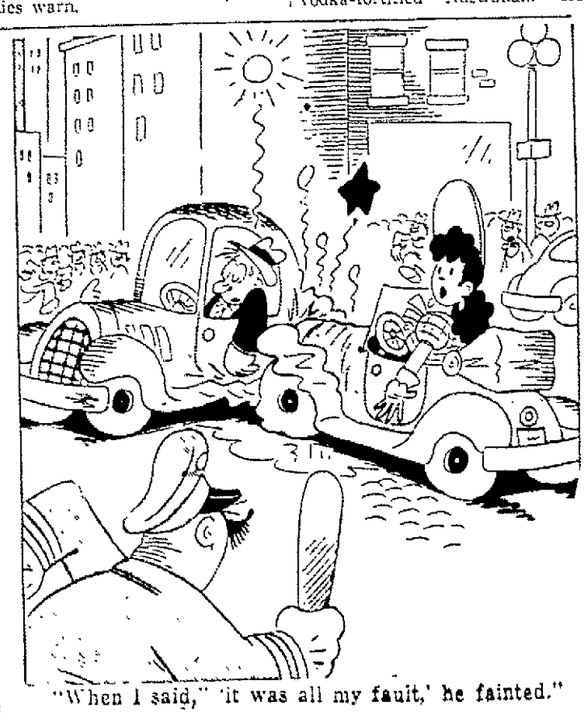
That the armed forces are taking more food than they need. The government says stockpiles must be adequate to protect combat forces wherever they are in action, and that no more food than is needed for safety is being taken.

That civilians get only what's left over after other claimants have taken what they want. This isn't so, the government says, because the civilian supply is calculated far in advance of every other group.

Farm experts state that to a large degree the farm manpower shortage will be helped next year when nearly a million and one-half persons who have left the city for rural sections acquire enough experience to plant and harvest crops.

Victory gardeners have also contributed huge stores of food to the general food supply this summer, government officials state.

But the food crisis is so big and overpowering that it will require the individual persistence of every citizen to combat actual want in this country alone, food authorities warn.



"When I said," 'it was all my fault,' he fainted.

Zoot Suiters

By DAMON RUNYON

Service Men Had Reform Drive Well Under Way; It's a Shame Los Angeles Police Butted In.

A STRANGER in Los Angeles is likely to be puzzled by frequent references in the newspapers to the activities of zoot-suit gangs. The references recently have become nation-wide as the result of riots in the city over the nuisances.

These gangs, as inquiry of any native will disclose, infest certain sections of downtown Los Angeles and are made up of ornery young fellows in their teens and early twenties who wear a ludicrous but most distinctive garb these days.

They go in for long flowing coats, pants, hats, pegtop trousers, very much pegged tight, at the ankles and ducktail haircuts. The hirsute trim brings the hair down the back of the neck in the shape of the nether end of a mallard. The zoot suit may not be peculiar to Los Angeles but zoot-suit gangs seem to be indigenous to that section.

The zoot suit gangs run wild in some areas of the city and the members are often in court on charges ranging from ordinary mischief to crimes of violence, including murder. Many of them are mobsters in embryo and cause the cops no end of trouble.

I suppose some Los Angeles youngsters wearing zoot suits are not associated with gangs or with crime in any form, but the innocent ones are sticking to that uniform nowadays.

It has become a sort of symbol of misdemeanor or felony. It has also become dangerous to the wearers since some zoot suiters insulted and mistreated the wives of service men. In consequence the soldiers and sailors organized posses of their own and descended on the haunts of the zoot suiters with the caress of a cyclone.

THEY were equipped with short ropes with leaded ends, and also with their fists. They invaded bars and dance halls and other hangouts of the zoot suiters and belted the bejimbers out of the home boys. The Los Angeles cops took to pinching the zoot suiters and the courts to vagging them, but it would have been better if the law had stood back and permitted the servicemen a free hand. There is nothing that cures would-be tough guys like a sound pasting, as some wise police official in New York demonstrated years ago when the big town was overrun by gangs.

This official organized the "strong arm squad," members of which were selected for their youth, strength and agility. They ranged the city usually in pairs, in civilian clothes and walked into every neighborhood where a gang had been forth and started smacking away without ceremony. They rarely used their pistols or blackjacks—just fists—and they seldom made arrests. But they worked some wonderful cures.

The "strong arm squad" was long since abandoned, the squeamishness of politicians who hated to see their favorite gangsters slugged having something to do with it, though it has its counterpart in other squads that deal with the underworld. But the duties of the old "strong arm squad" were no one-track, simple and so beautifully executed it seems a pity it was not perpetuated. There is no sense in any community harboring tough guys in gangs.

THE zoot suit, in its component parts, is not new, though the ensemble is. The long flowing coat is a throwback to a fashion of the so-called gay nineties, which were not at all gay if you throw in '93, only the modern one is exaggerated to some extent. The pegtop trousers that require the removal of the shoes before the wearer can unpants himself were quite the vogue among all the hot men in the early '20s.

The pancake hat also goes back to the nineties. The ducktail haircut is oriental and never before popular in any set in this country. Our folks have generally favored the badger hair-do, or the trim that looks as if it had been done with a pot placed over the head. Even the idea of a distinctive get-up in gangs is not new as the rank and file is apt to follow the fashion of a leader. Nearly all the tough guys of the booting days were wearing quiet, well-tailored dark clothes, white linen and dark ties.

I REMEMBER a distinguished killer out of Detroit whose name was usually associated with the "Purple gang" complaining to me this was a most unfair classification. He said that one time a number of young fellows he described as utter nobodies were arrested and some reporter noticed that all wore purple shirts, so he called them the "Purple gang." Thereafter, practically every crime and every underworld character in Detroit was assigned to the "Purple gang."

"I never wore a purple shirt in my life," said the gentleman, shuddering. "How ungenerous that would be!"

Poor Old Gotham

By SPOON RIVER SAM
Associated Press Features

You keep reading pieces about New York suffering in the war, losing ground to other cities. Sounds like the place is on its last leg with nothing going on but night life, the citizens singing and dancing while their ship goes down.

Some cities do fold up in war time. Take Bernadotte, in the Spoon River country. It was wiped out by one of Uncle Sam's enterprises, and the 100 folks living there swarmed to other parts.

But if New York really is a ghost city, I claim it was quite a place while it lasted. It has had a big part in our history, and for that reason I say the memory of it ought to be kept alive. Its historical sections ought to be preserved, or rebuilt, as a showplace for coming generations.

And if we have folks roaming around looking for jobs after the war, I figure there ought to be a resettlement project in New York. Send the people there, and let 'em rebuild it.

No matter what happens, I don't think the United States should let New York go to pot. It's just as important to us as Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. After the war, I predict it will come in mighty handy as a port city.

There's too many folks in this country anxious to write the other fellow's obituary. But I've got too much confidence in Mayor LaGuardia to give up on his city. Personally, I think New York is here to stay.

So They Say

I'm not interested in abstruse speculation about the respective merits of day and night bombing. I'm a believer in both day and night bombing, and that's what the Germans are going to get remorselessly and without respite for the rest of the war.—Sir Archibald Sinclair, British air minister.

WASHINGTON, June 17 — A ... other enemy agents be... the six submarine-borne ... who were electrocuted ... August have been exe... by the government since ... of war was given ... house appropriations com... today in printed hearings ... agencies supply bill.

... during testimony of Byron Price, director of the office of censorship.

Discussing the activities of his agency and the role it has played in forestalling enemy plots, Price told the committee:

"As to security, censorship has discovered and enabled other agencies of the government to forestall enemy plots. People have been arrested and in some cases executed as a result of the evidence that we have produced."

Price did not elaborate on that statement, nor did the record show any further discussion of it, but committee members who heard the testimony said they did not believe the office of censorship had claimed any part in the apprehension of the six Nazi agents executed last year.

"There undoubtedly have been other cases," one member said.

GOVERNOR SIGNS 24 LEGISLATIVE MEASURES

Defers Action on 18 Including "Numbers" Prison Penalty.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—Gov. John W. Bricker yesterday signed 24 legislative measures, but deferred action on 18 others, including the bill providing prison sentences for promoters of "numbers" gambling rackets.

Chief among the approved legislation was an increase of $2,936,000 in state aid allotted to the school foundation program during 1944, and an increase of $1,450,000 during the first six months of 1945. The bill boosts the state's school program approximately $500,000 over the governor's budgetary limitation of $95,235,000.

Bricker also signed into law a bill making it a felony to steal automobile tires, tubes or gasoline for the duration and subjecting offenders to fines up to $1,000 and a penitentiary sentence of from one to seven years.

Other approved bills provide for the state's acquisition of marginal delinquent tax lands for the establishment of state forests, require U. S. citizenship as a qualification for a civil service appointment; and eliminate the present 90-day Ohio residence requirement in filing injured workman claims.

New Regulation Permits Importing of Liquor

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 17—State liquor director Don Fisher announced yesterday he had filed a regulation with the secretary of state permitting Ohioans to import from other states bottled alcoholic beverages for their own consumption, provided they obtain consent from the liquor department.

A charge of 60 cents per quart container, 50 cents per 1/5 galion and 30 cents per pint will be levied at the time consent is issued, the director said.

They did not stop strikes themselves, do not want the government to stop them in time of war. They will not purge their ranks of racketeers and will not let anyone else purge them. They will not open their books to treasury inspection, will fight any such legislation.

A man generally directs the nature of tactics used by his opposition against him through the course he himself assumes. If his charges are made fairly and in moderation, he requires his opposition to assume the same fair tone. If he is wild, relentless, unmoving, he inspires such tactics by his opposition.

REUNIONS

SCHNARRENBERGER

The twenty-sixth annual reunion of the Michael Schnarrenberger family was held Sunday at Garfield park. The following officers were elected: F. E. Schnarrenberger, president; William Schnarrenberger, vice president; Mrs. Orie Laucher, secretary and treasurer. A fund was raised to be used to purchase a gift for three of the boys in service. The next reunion will be held in Crawford county on the second Sunday in June.

Galion Arranges Horse Show and Parade for July 5

Special to The Star

GALION, June 17—A celebration is being planned for the citizens of Galion and surrounding community for Monday afternoon and evening, July 5. The Galion Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the program with Marvin O. Adams in charge.

The celebration will begin with a parade which will terminate at Heise Park where the combined bands of the community will participate in a Flag raising ceremony.

A horse show will be the main event of the afternoon. Entries are being taken from the surrounding counties. Following the horse show an ox roast and picnic supper will be held. At 6:30 a baseball game will be played, Galion vs. Iberia. The evening program will consist of outdoor movies and fireworks at the park followed by street dancing on the public square.

The events of the day will be interspersed with various contests, demonstrations, raffles and patriotic events. Two war bonds will be given as prizes, one for $100, the other for $50.

Assisting Mr. Adams with plans are Douglas Young, Grant Ulmer and C. L. Baxter.

PROPOSE BIBLE CLASS FOR Y BOYS' CLUBS

Suggestion Is Placed Before Council of Churches.

The Marion Council of Churches in cooperation with the Y.M.C.A. is studying suggestions for Bible classes as a part of the program of Y boys' clubs next year.

In the monthly meeting of the council at the Y Tuesday night, Marion Mewhorter, program director of the Y, presented the Bible class proposition for council consideration. Rev. E. M. Hertzler, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, was then appointed as chairman of a council committee to study the proposal.

If the Bible instruction plan is adopted, the council will furnish the Y with both leaders and material for the classes.

Purpose of the classes, according to Mr. Mewhorter, would be to give the benefit of Bible teaching to more Marion boys, who otherwise might not have the opportunity.

If there are Bible classes next year, first attention will be paid to Gra-Y clubs whose members are of elementary school age. If it is possible, Y officials would like to give religious instruction to Hi-Y boys as well as to younger Y members.

BABY DEATH RATE IN OHIO AT NEW LOW

1942 Figure Is 37 Out of Every 1,000 Births.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—The death rate of babies born in Ohio during 1942 reached a new low, the state health department reported today.

The department's annual vital statistics report said the infant mortality rate last year was 37 deaths out of every 1,000 births. This compares with a rate of 42 in the preceding year.

In terming the 1942 record the best in Ohio's history, the report called attention to the fact that children died at rates in the 100's prior to 1914.

The report said the state's total 1942 death rate was 11.1 persons per 1,000 population, a slight decline from 1941. It reported a total of 77,490 deaths for the year. Of these, 22,673 died of heart diseases, 9,534 of cancer, 7,091 of cerebral hemorrhage, 5,412 of nephritis, 3,250 of pneumonia, 2,350 of tuberculosis, 2,166 of diabetes and 1,785 of injuries suffered in falls.

Accidental deaths totaled 5,626 in 1942 as against 6,240 in 1941. Accidental deaths involving motor vehicles were 1,783. Home accidents killed 1,804.

Mrs. Roosevelt Traces Zoot-Suit Trouble Cause

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said yesterday that she thought the zoot-suit fights which have flared in Los Angeles could be traced to what she called long-standing discrimination against Mexicans in that part of the country.

The President's wife told her press conference that race problems are growing in the United States and all over the world, and "we must just begin to face it."

"For a long time I've worried about the attitude toward Mexicans in California and the states along the border," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

She asserted that the fights between zoot-suit clad Mexican youths and service men in Los Angeles "have roots in things which happened long before."

Sentenced for Fatal Locking of Children

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 17.—Theodore Williams Sr., 35, was sentenced to one to 20 years in Ohio penitentiary yesterday on a first degree manslaughter indictment in the deaths of two children who were suffocated when fire broke out in a room in which they had been locked while the parents were at a downtown theater. Mrs. Williams, 26, the mother was placed on probation.

The two pleaded guilty in common pleas court.

Police charged that the couple locked three sons in a bedroom and two smaller children, a boy and a girl, in a small clothes closet the night of April 29. One of the boys started a fire which swept the bedroom, bringing death to himself and a brother before a neighbor smelled smoke and entered the apartment to investigate.

Glycerin, an element used in hand lotions, is needed for high-powered explosives.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood; your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains; loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels; so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

German and Russian "Peace" Parley Reported

LONDON, June 17.—A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm yesterday said the pro-German newspaper Allehanda published a special edition quoting a "reliable source" as saying that peace negotiations recently took place between Germany and Russia in Stockholm.

The dispatch said the story was considered a "Nazi plant" in Stockholm.

Allehanda said the purported talks broke down because of Russia's territorial demands.

SAYS FOOD HOARDED AT U. S. JAP CENTER

Former Employe Claims Huge Stocks of Foods Found.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, June 17 — Testimony of secret hoards of food stuffs, one of which he said he ordered had been traded by Japanese for whisky and chicken, was given a Dies committee investigator by a former employe of the Heart Mountain relocation center in Wyoming.

Earl A. Best, a wounded veteran of Bataan, told the committee yesterday he was sent to Heart Mountain last December as an assistant steward after having served for a time as chief steward at the Poston, Ariz., relocation center.

During a month-long inventory of food at the Heart Mountain camp, Best said, he found 38 of the center's 42 kitchens and supplies added in their attics.

In one of them, he declared, a Japanese crew showed him secret partitions reached by sliding doors in the kitchen walls, one of them about five by 15 in. size and piled to the ceiling with foodstuffs.

In another mess hall the Japanese had built a stage and the space between it was packed with canned goods, Best said. He notified the project director about the secret food rooms, he added, but no action was taken.

"At one time while I was there there were 17 50-pound bags of mayonnaise, and they were about out," Best testified. "Most of the supply and good stock to be."

"There was a 65-pound supply of tea there. There was a five-year supply of raisins, tomatoes, at the rate they were using them, but on the ration point system there was enough for eight years."

Chaplin and Bride Elude Public for Quiet Wedding

By The Associated Press

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 17—Charles Spencer Chaplin and his fourth youthful bride, Oona O'Neill, who were married yesterday in a perfunctory three-minute ceremony that was made noteworthy principally by their efforts to elude the public eye, had apparently achieved today the seclusion they desired.

Their immediate whereabouts and their honeymoon plans remained undisclosed.

Meanwhile, in Hollywood, physicians and special guards attended 23-year-old Joan Berry, who received word of the marriage with hysterics, her attorneys said. Miss Berry, ambitious for a film career, was once under contract to Chaplin, and her mother, Mrs. Gertrude E. Berry of New York, has charged in a civil suit that Chaplin is the father of Joan's expected child.

The 54-year-old film comic and Miss O'Neill, 18, daughter of Playwright Eugene O'Neill, appeared separately at the courthouse here early yesterday morning to fill out the form necessary for a marriage license.

An hour later they were wed by Justice of the Peace Clinton P. Moore at his home in nearby Carpenteria, "without fuss, feathers or fol-de-rol," as the justice expressed it.

Harry Crocker, newspaper columnist and friend of Chaplin, and Miss Catherine Hunter, the comedian-producer's press representative, witnessed the ceremony.

Chaplin was so fidgety when he visited the courthouse, said Deputy County Clerk Ira Aitchnal, that he could hardly hold the pen and even forgot to remove his hat. He was still nervous during the marriage in the judge's home. Taking the gold ring that Crocker handed him, he thrust it on Miss O'Neill's finger and then, somewhat self-consciously, kissed her.

Shortly after the wedding party left the house Chaplin discovered that Judge Moore, 78-year-old retired Methodist minister, likewise had been a bit nervous. He had spelled Chaplin's name "Chapman" on the certificate. The comedian hastened back for a corrected copy.

Your EMPTY SOFT DRINK BOTTLES Will Send BOY SCOUTS To Camp

The Boy Scouts of Marion and Marion County have enlisted to collect the thousands of empty soft drink bottles in this section. Hundreds of Scouts will perform the job. The drive starts Friday, June 18. A Scout will call at your door in line of duty. He will ask for your empty returnable bottles. Please give them to him.

Make a survey now of the empty bottles stored about your home or garage . . . bottles that should be returned to the bottler to whom they belong . . . to conserve vital materials . . . and assure an ample supply of soft drink containers for residents of this area.

When you turn over your "empties" to him you perform a dual service . . . you contribute to the Boy Scout fund that will send worthy Scouts to Camp Owens . . . you restore idle bottles to active service and thereby enable the glass industry to continue the manufacture of glass containers so badly needed for the armed forces at home and abroad.

When a SCOUT Calls at Your Home — Give Him Your Bottles

The Scout that calls at your home is giving his time for this project. He, along with other Scouts, will cover every home in this city in the drive to obtain empty bottles.

The empty bottles will be turned in to dealers by the Scouts for the rebate, which in turn will be credited to the Scouts' camp expenses.

MRS. ADDIE BURLEY CLAIMED BY DEATH

Dies at Daughter's Home on Decatur St.

Mrs. Addie May Burley, 88, died today at 7:15 a. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Opal Shumate of 490 Decatur street, after an illness of 12 weeks.

Mrs. Burley was born May 1, 1855 in LaRue to John and Matilda Burris Riser, both of Marion county. She was married to John Burley, March 19, 1894 at Agosta, O. and was a member of the Morral Methodist church. She lived in Morral until two years ago when she came to Marion.

Surviving are five children: John H. Burley of Mansfield, William Burley of Green Camp, Mrs. Opal Shumate, Mrs. Viola Clark of 472 North Grand avenue, Mrs. Hazel Warner of Springfield. One brother, Starley Riser of Kenton and a sister Mrs. Ada Dawson of Pearl street. Also surviving are 15 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Shumate home at 490 Decatur street after 10 a. m. tomorrow. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 1 p. m. at the Second Pilgrim Holiness church with Rev. Albert Hood officiating. Burial will be in the LaRue cemetery.

Another Flier Salutes Parents from Air Here

Another aerial salute over Marion was reported today when Mr. and Mrs. Arlis Reichardt of 294 Chicago avenue stated that their son, Lieutenant Leslie Reichardt was the pilot of the B-17 which flew over the city late Saturday afternoon. Lt. Reichardt, with the co-pilot, circled around the Reichardt home and threw a note from the plane which hasn't been recovered. The fliers then continued to Cleveland where they landed a passenger. Mr. and Mrs. Reichardt joined their son in Cleveland, learned that he had been the pilot of the plane, and after a few hours visit they watched him take off for an unknown base.

Lt. Reichardt was commissioned last October and has been stationed at Kearney Field, Neb.

AXIS SATELLITE PROBLEMS AT DANGER POINT

Opposition Groups Becoming More Outspoken in Rumania and Bulgaria.

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, June 17—Increasing resistance by opposition groups within axis satellite countries of southeastern Europe, a situation which Nazi authorities apparently are handling with unusual liberality, was reported today in information reaching Cairo.

Underground leaders in collaborationist Rumania and Bulgaria are becoming more and more outspoken, it was said, and in Bulgaria, where many elements have strong ties with the Soviet, there has been a resurgence of the old "Mother Russia" sentiment.

Sounds Warning

The extent to which disaffected groups in Rumania are permitting themselves to give voice to their dissatisfaction was indicated in a recent speech by Baron Manfred von Killinger, German minister to Bucharest.

"We laugh at all these dwarfs," he declared, "these anti-Germans, politicians who are nothing but talkative loafers, Jews, pro-Jews and those who are servants of Jews."

Then he added: "All these must take care , our patience will end."

Some quarters here expressed the view that the various underground movements may be moving too fast for their own good, for German technique frequently has been to allow the opposition sufficient rope to hang itself.

Timing Important

The ideal movements for the allies, it was pointed out, are those which would reach their peak at the moment of invasion of Europe.

(These reports of dissatisfaction within the satellite countries were highlighted by a roundabout report yesterday through Turkey that Rumania was sounding out the allies on what she might gain by withdrawing from the war.)

Reports reaching here indicate that Hungary is laying plans to abandon Hitler's "new order" if the necessity arises.

U. S. Bombers Destroy Japanese River Craft

By The Associated Press

NEW DELHI, June 17—U. S. medium bombers destroyed six medium-sized river craft in Japanese service on the Irrawaddy near Mandalay yesterday and wrecked or damaged five large boats, a 10th U. S. AAF communique said today.

In other blows at the enemy's Burmese communications, railway cars and trackage were reported damaged at Paukkan. Direct hits were scored on warehouses and sheds in the Japanese barracks area at Thazi.

All the raiders returned safely.

CORN LOANS CALLED
By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — Loans averaging from 73 to 89 cents a bushel on 47,000,000 bushels of 1942 corn were called in by the war food administration today, effective July 15. The WFA said its action would force more corn into normal trade channels. Farmers who obtained loans on last year's corn crop must either pay off or deliver the corn to the government.

25 Rescued From Pacific After 15 Days Afloat

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., June 17 — Chilled by rains and seared by the sun, 25 men jammed in a small lifeboat from their torpedoed merchantman rode out the South Pacific swells for 15 days—until an Army Flying Fortress spotted them as they were on the verge of starvation.

The story came today from George Atchison, 20-year-old Navy seaman, first class, who returned home to await his next assignment.

They spotted a floating cocoanut on the seventh day, he said, and carved it into 50 pieces, two for each man. Their normal daily ration was two biscuits and a malted milk tablet apiece.

On the 15th day a Flying Fortress spotted the boat and soon a transport came over and dropped coffee, cigarets and canned food.

"It was awfully tough rowing about a half-mile to where those supplies fell, but we made it—and how good those cigarets and coffee tasted! We drank the coffee out of a steel helmet one fellow wore."

G. O. P. GOVERNORS DROP PLATFORM TALK

Change Made After Spangler Says He Can't Attend.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 17—A possibility that the platform for the Republican party's 1944 presidential campaign would begin to take form at next week's conference of governors here, was removed today after national G.O.P. Chairman Harrison E. Spangler announced he would not attend the gathering.

Spangler's announcement followed a telephone conversation which Gov. John W. Bricker said he had with the party chieftain who previously had announced plans to "meet informally" here with 24 Republican governor members of a council named to consider the party's 1944 platform.

The governor said he told Spangler that with the heavy conference program "there simply would be no time for such a conference of Republican governors," but sources close to Bricker, who declined to be quoted by name, said they thought the governor's desire to keep the gathering of 45 state executives free from politics might have prompted Spangler to cancel his plans.

National Republican committee officials in Washington said Spangler would meet with the governors later in the summer.

Ohio Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, only Democrat holding an elective state office, meanwhile reported 21 Democratic governors had accepted his invitations to a reception Monday. Ferguson said he scheduled the reception after learning Spangler was to meet with the Republicans.

Spokesmen for the auditor, who was in Washington, said the reception would be held despite changes in plans of the Republicans.

Ohioan Rescued from Deep Sewer After 13 Hours

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 17—Trapped 65 feet underground in a rain-flooded sewer for more than 13 hours, Gordon Tempany, 54-year-old construction foreman, was rescued today by desperately-toiling city firemen.

Suffering no ill effects from his entombment, the foreman jokingly told rescuers, "I had a good time." As he emerged from the sewer, his wife rushed to embrace him.

Tempany is employed by a construction company engaged in building a sewer at E. 37th street and Kingsbury Run. He dashed into a water-tight concrete compartment last night to escape drowning as tons of storm water flooded the construction project.

Fourteen other men employed on the project fled to exits while Tempany took refuge in the compartment, about 600 feet from the closest exit.

and said they were inclined to doubt it.

A later broadcast from Algiers, recorded by Reuters, said Germany had asked Turkey to recall her consul in Mytilene, capital of the Greek island of Mytilene in the Aegean sea off the Turkish coast 170 miles northeast of Athens.

The Turkish consul at Salonika was reported already recalled.

This broadcast also was without confirmation from other quarters.

Marion Nurse Arrives Safely at Destination

SILK HOSIERY PRICE CHANGE
By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—The office of price administration today substituted a sliding scale of $0.79-1.25 for the flat $1 maximum retail price on women's combination silk hosiery. Combination silk hose are made of silk twisted with rayon or cotton. The new price scale, effective at retail July 17, is 79 cents for 39 gauge and lower, 89 cents for 42 gauge, $1 for 45 gauge, $1.15 for 48 gauge and $1.25 for 51 gauge and higher.

Turkish Attitude Seen As a Body Blow To Hitler

While DeWitt Mackenzie is on vacation, this daily column is being written by Max Hill, former chief of The Associated Press bureau in Tokyo.

* * *

By MAX HILL

Turkey has picked her winner in the war. There no longer can be any doubt that she has climbed down off the diplomatic fence and decided the United Nations are the best bet.

This probably does not surprise either the axis or the allies, but just the same it is a body blow to Hitler, and it exposes one of the soft spots in his vaunted fortress of Europe to attack—the Balkans.

Two years ago Turkey would not have dared treat the axis with such chilling scorn as Premier Sukru Saracoglu did yesterday. He expressed warm friendship for America, Britain and Russia, and their aims in the war. His remarks concerning Germany were tepid and restrained, to say the least.

It has been evident for some time that we held the whip-hand in Turkey, and that Franz von Papen has failed utterly and completely in another mission for Hitler. But it was not an openly admitted fact. Now it is.

Turkey hasn't even voiced a technical protest over the closing of the Syrian border, a move which was said by British embassy sources in Ankara to be necessary to shield troop movements.

It is known that both Britain and America have great quantities of war materials and large armies in India, not too far away. Might this be the source of a good part of the offensive power the United Nations seem to be massing in the near east?

This latest development in the global war is a definite threat to Hitler's vital oil supply in Rumania, much more important to him than the support of Italy, and the uncertainty in Berlin should have doubled with the semi-official reports from Ankara that Rumania had put out peace feelers. Through a neutral diplomat she wanted to know what the attitude of the United Nations toward her would be, should she withdraw from the war. Hitler can hold such countries as Rumania only by force and by winning, which isn't the case just now.

RAF

From other widespread sources came a flurry of reports that major events were brewing in the Balkan-Middle East arena.

A Moscow broadcast said Ernest Kaltenbrunner, chief of German security police, had been hurriedly sent to Rumania to reorganize the police there, and declared that the atmosphere in Bucharest, the Rumanian capital, was "very tense." Many Rumanian political leaders were said to be in hiding.

An Ankara report yesterday said Rumania had sent out peace feelers to the allies.

Cairo heard that Hungary was also preparing to abandon Hitler's "new order" if the necessity arises.

A Berlin broadcast acknowledged that the allies had "one hope of possible attack—in southeastern Europe," but asserted that "an invasion will prove a blood bath without precedent" and that "two-thirds of the landing force will be wiped out even before a decisive battle has been joined."

Nazi Radio Boasts

As for Hitler's vaunted Atlantic wall, stretching thousands of miles from southern France to Norway, the Nazi radio boasted it "may be considered impregnable."

In the Russian campaign, Soviet headquarters reported a series of clashes on the long-dormant Smolensk sector, west of Moscow, but on the whole the 1,500-mile battlefront remained strangely quiet.

With the steppes already baked hard in the hot June sun, Hitler's mechanized armies were apparently waiting to see what might happen in western and southern Europe before attempting a new drive to the east against Russia, and by the same token the Red armies were holding back their punch until the critical hour.

Latest reports indicated that the great summer battle, when it starts, will center in the Orel region, 200 miles south of Moscow, where both the Germans and Russians have been massing vast armies and supplies for weeks.

From Orel, Hitler might strike out in a new thrust to the northeast to swing around Moscow and lop off the deep Russian salient now pressing against Germany's Baltic defenses at Velikie Luki.

CONGRESS TORN BY ARGUMENTS

Disputes Threaten To Hold Up Lawmakers' First Real Rest Since Pearl Harbor.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—Congress, striving for a summer recess by July 10 was embroiled today in a series of arguments that held possibilities of holding up the law-making body's first real vacation since the Pearl Harbor attack.

The senate appeared set for a knock-down floor fight on the plan of the office of price administration to roll back food prices by subsidizing producers with federal money. Opponents of the program, while demonstrating a decided willingness to tangle in debate, showed an indication to temporize.

Favor Subsidy Ceiling

Some members of the banking committee said they would be attentive to a move to restrict subsidies to a certain ceiling. Up to now, they have been talking only of an outright prohibition.

The house was engulfed in an assortment of views toward government agency appropriations. Republicans, in such numbers now that they are close to dominance, served notice privately they would shoot at the administration's requests for funds for the office of war information (OWI) and the office of price administration (OPA). It was conceded in house circles that the developing scrap over these appropriations could jeopardize the summer holiday.

Post war discussions, rife as ever, brought a new touch in senate quarters. The foreign relations committee chairman, Senator Connally (D-Tex) implied that he thought peace plans to date were inadequate. So, he said, the committee probably will have a plan of its own.

Farm Differences

As a further indication of the mixup in congress, a joint committee handling the $875,000,000 farm appropriations bill said conferences had struggled with 134 specific differences of opinion. They called solution of 61 points progress.

With a $72,000,000,000 war department bill coming up in the house soon — greatest money-raising bill in the history of the world—the prospects for a congressional holiday were dimmed, slightly, to say the least.

BLOW-UP EXPECTED IN TOP RANKS OF OWI

Davis, Another Executive and White House May Be Involved.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—Look for a major personnel blow-up in the office of war information (OWI) soon—involving Director Elmer Davis, one of his top executives and maybe even the White House.

That was the word today from D. C. Speaker, strictly unofficial but well-informed District of Columbia news source.

"Ironically," said D. C., the mythical capital spokesman who represents authentic but unquotable sources, "the row is coming to a climax right after a speech by Davis in which he inferentially decried giving too much attention to personal squabbles in our war agencies."

(At Boston, Monday, Mr. Davis suggested that reporters at Washington might be making too much of the various capital controversies.)

"What's cooking now," Speaker added, "is between Davis himself and one of his best-known aides—a man who has been regarded in the past as mighty close to the White House.

"Davis, who will take on anybody when he thinks he's right, is seeking the man's resignation, and the individual concerned—likewise a strong character—is reported to have elected to fight it out right to the top."

PACKERS AWAIT EFFECT OF SUBSIDY SCHEDULE

Some Say Program May Cause Scarcity To Become Worse.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 17 — Packers and commission dealers today watched with interest the effect on business at the nation's major livestock markets following disclosure by the government of details of subsidy payments accompanying the scheduled rollback in retail meat prices.

Spokesmen for packers and dealers asserted that the recent slowdown in activity at the stockyards here and in other major centers was due to the uncertainties of the terms of the subsidy payments to packers to compensate them for the rollback, which seeks to cut consumer prices 10 per cent. The new retail prices become effective next week.

The payments, to be made monthly and to apply to livestock slaughtered beginning June 7, will be 1.1 cents per pound for cattle and calves; 1.3 cents per pound for hogs and pigs, and 0.95 cents per pound for sheep and lambs. Some packing company spokesman said preliminary calculations indicated the payments would not compensate fully for the reduction in resale prices.

Charles Rice, president of the Chicago Livestock Exchange, said price rollback might cause an even greater scarcity of beef in the regular commercial channels than he said now exists.

Moscow Says Italians Withdrawing from Sicily

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 17—A Moscow radio broadcast recorded by CBS said today that several incidents among the Italian garrisons of Sicily and Sardinia had led the Italian high command to start withdrawing "its demoralized troops from the islands under the pretext that it is regrouping its forces."

The families of practically all members of the Mussolini government "are reported to have been evacuated to Hungary," the Soviet radio said.

MARTIAL LAW ENDS RIOTING IN TEXAS

2 Dead, 10 Hurt, 25 Houses Wrecked at Beaumont.

By The Associated Press

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 17—Sixteen hundred Texas state guardsmen patrolled this city today in the wake of a riot that resulted in the death of two persons, hospitalization of ten and the wrecking of 25 houses in a Negro section.

The dead were Ellis Cleveland Brown, who suffered a skull fracture, and John Johnson, 44-year-old Negro who died of gunshot wounds. He said a group of white men fired on him as he was entering a car at the ice plant where he was employed.

State troops were dispatched, after martial law was declared, to patrol Negro sections and guard against any further outbreak of riots which had been growing in intensity since a young mother, wife of a war worker, told police she had been raped by a Negro.

A hundred state officers, including Texas Rangers, are aiding the militia.

Guard patrols last night made numerous arrests of persons who had violated a curfew order, under which all civilians were told to be off the streets by 8:30 p. m.

Several scores of persons had been arrested before martial law was declared. No charges had been filed against them early today, but they were being held in jail.

French Committee And Giraud Outline Plans

By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, June 17 — Thirteen members of the French national liberation committee, with Gen. Henri Giraud presiding, reached an agreement at an 80-minute meeting today on procedure and collective responsibility, it was announced.

Rene Massigli, commissioner of foreign affairs, informed the first plenary session of communications received from other governments concerning recognition of the committee as the provisional government of the French empire.

The committee began the first steps toward the creation of a "consultative assembly."

It was also announced that an exchange of views had taken place on the problems concerning the organization of French military forces, one of the principal causes of friction between Giraud and Gen. Charles De Gaulle.

MRS. SPEIDEL, 80 STRICKEN SUDDENLY

Dies After Hour's Illness at Daughter's Home.

Mrs. Minnie Speidel, 80, died suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elwood Ball, at 667 North State street, today at 3:30 a. m. of a heart ailment after an illness of one hour.

Mrs. Speidel was born June 18, 1863 at Wurttemberg, Germany to Jacob and Barbara Beck. She came to this country when she was 18 years old and was married in Hickman, Neb. to Jacob Speidel, who died Feb. 22, 1934 in Marion. She was a member of the Lutheran church. She had been a resident of Marion for 35 years and prior to that she lived in Lincoln, Neb.

Surviving are seven children, Mrs. C. J. Schaffer of Dayton, John J., Carl F. and Louis A. Speidel all of Edison; Mrs. George Clemens of Galion; Mrs. Sarah Clark and Mrs. Elwood Ball Jr. of North State street. Also surviving are 10 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Schaffner-Denzer Funeral Home after 7:30 p. m. tonight. Funeral services will be held at the funeral home, Saturday at 1 p. m. with Rev. Henry Maag officiating.

PREDICTS BIG YEAR FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Farm Administrator Optimistic Despite Bad Spring.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — Chester C. Davis, war food administrator, said yesterday that dry fields and an unfavorable spring [illegible] production this year [illegible] any time in history except last year.

In a report to the administrator's [illegible] Davis said [illegible] 1943, again in 1944, 1941 and 1942.

But our civilian consumers alone ate up 85 per cent of that one record production of last year, Davis said. "Only 15 per cent of it went to our armed forces and lend-lease. The last two years have been a great feast period for our civilian consumers."

The civilian consumer has had more money to spend than ever before and he has tried to spend it. If that extra purchasing power can be harnessed, it too can be made to serve in our national teamwork."

Davis, discussing the teamwork he says enables allied strategy to carry the war to the enemy, said that food sent to Russia is a cheap price to pay "for the tremendous blows against our enemy which this food helps to make possible.

"I suppose each ton of food we send to Russia," he added, "helps to destroy as much of our enemy's power as any other ton of food we produce."

Davis said about six per cent of the nation's total food production was exported for lend-lease in 1942 and that this year it would amount to about 11 or 12 per cent.

Food lend-leased by this nation last year was at a rate of 16 pounds per capita, he said, while Australia and New Zealand lend-leased food at the rate of 26 pounds per capita. He added that Britain, although short of food itself, has been furnishing about one half of everything our soldiers in Britain eat "and furnishing it to us free, under reverse lend-lease."

Fish and How To Cook It

ROLLED STUFFED FLOUNDER: No red stamps needed.

Rolled Stuffed Flounder

2 p[illegible] [illegible] 2 tablespoons [illegible] 2 tablespoons [illegible] 2 teaspoons [illegible] cups fine [illegible] crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped [illegible] salt, dash of pepper, 1½ tablespoons softened butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon paprika.

[illegible] flounder fillets lightly [illegible] together with mayonnaise, lemon juice, grated onion, 2 tablespoons butter, melted, salt, dash of pepper and 1 cup water. Roll fillets, starting with wide end. Secure with toothpicks. Place in buttered baking dish. Pour remaining butter, melted, over fish. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with fork. Serves 4.

Associated Press Food Editor

YOU'LL want to make the most of available fresh fish as a substitute for rationed meat and canned fish.

If you can't get your favorite fish, try some other kind. Government food experts now are calling attention to varieties of fresh-water fish that have not been widely popular but are nutritious and deserve more use. Among these are carp, which had a large increase in consumption during the last year.

Experts recommend removal of the entire skin of the carp by plunging the fish (or its fillets) into boiling water, allowing it to remain for about 25 seconds after boiling starts again. The skin may then be easily rubbed off while the fish is hot, and the flesh rinsed in cold water. If boiling is continued too long, the flesh may break up. This is a preliminary operation before cooking.

There are many ways of stretching fish by combining it with vegetables and other foods.

FISH SHEPHERD'S PIE makes a little fish go a long way. This is a meat-in-one-dish, the vegetables going right along in the pie with the fish and one cooking doing it all. Cook together, covered for 20 minutes, 1 cup diced carrots, 2/3 cup diced celery, ¼ cup diced onions and 2 cups water. Drain and reserve the vegetable stock for soup or sauce at another meal. Make 2 cups of regular vegetable white sauce (kind used for creamed potatoes). Combine the vegetables and sauce and add 1 cup cooked fish (cut in inch cubes is best). Season with 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon each celery seed and paprika and 2 tablespoon minced parsley. Pour into shallow, buttered baking dish and cover with well seasoned mashed potatoes (fluffy and rather thin). Bake this pie 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

You might cook some SLICED FRESH PEARS OR APPLES while the pie is baking. Sprinkle 3 cups of sliced fruit with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/3 cup honey or corn syrup, 2 tablespoons margarine (melted), ½ teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg and ½ cup water. Cover and bake 25 minutes. Uncover and bake 10 minutes. Serve hot or cold with the main course, or with cream for dessert.

A hot bread will add interest to a fish meal so bake muffins, corn bread or bran gems while the oven is going.

FISH NOODLE RING presents old favorites in a new mode. Make the ring like this: Mix together 1 cup each of cooked fish, cooked noodles and soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, ½ cup diced celery, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon paprika, ¼ cup chopped olives (optional), 2 eggs or 4 yolks, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted) and ½ cup milk. Bake 30 minute in buttered ring mold. Let stand 5 minutes in a hot place, then loosen around the edges and turn onto a warm platter. Fill and surround with brown savory or cheese sauce.

Bake an ORANGE COTTAGE PUDDING while the fish ring is cooking. This pudding is good, warm or cold, plain or covered with sliced oranges or creamy sauce (lemon or orange flavored). If you have jam or jelly you can spread some on the warm pudding. Nowadays we have to figure out all sorts of way to put across some of our plainer dishes.

For a hurry-up meal, try creamed fish served piping hot on crisp hot waffles. Also have as a foil for the fish a big green vegetable salad. Most any dessert will fit in.

Green Salads For Those Hot Days

By ALICE DENHOFF

Now that the warm weather is here, salads have come into their own. Keep on hand a supply of fresh, washed, crisp greens in refrigerator containers so that you can toss together a green salad for any meal. Replenish the greens every market day or as the Victory Garden yields them. But before putting them away, wash the greens very clean and dry or drain well, and then chill, tightly covered. Try new bits of greens. Add bits of the more pungent greens to the milder types; mix dark greens with light, add pieces of raw or cooked vegetables, fruits and cheese, and add favorite relishes, herbs and seasonings.

Making a fine green salad is an art. Use a large chilled bowl to allow for tossing ingredients. Rub bowl lightly with a cut garlic clove for subtle flavor. Put in chilled greens, tearing large leaves into small pieces, shredding any old or tough leaves, mixing the highly flavored ones. Then add French dressing, a little at a time, tossing leaves lightly with salad fork to coat all leaves well.

Salads in Jelly

Salads shimmering through a coat of jelly give a touch of beauty that is matched by their palate appeal. For an excellent salad, to serve 6 or 8, dissolve package lemon flavored gelatin in a pint of hot water. Add a tablespoon vinegar, ¼ teaspoon salt and a dash of cayenne. Chill until slightly thickened. Cut a pimento into strips and arrange strips in individual molds. Season 2 hard-cooked eggs cut into large pieces and one cup chopped celery with ¼ teaspoon salt. Add 1/3 cup chopped olives, 1½ teaspoon chopped chives or teaspoon scraped onion. Fold into slightly thickened gelatin. Turn into molds and chill till firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens and garnish with mayonnaise.

Cabbage Slaw

Serve plenty of cabbage slaw and dress it up with such colorful additions as grated raw carrot and chopped green pepper, or diced cucumber, diced pineapple, diced apples, chopped peanuts or sliced stuffed olives.

Extend Ham with Cabbage

By BETSY NEWMAN

A LITTLE ham can be made to go a long way if you get a split shank end and combine it with cabbage. Cabbage, I don't need to remind you, is an excellent source of iron. I'll give you the recipe for this ham and cabbage dish.

MENU

Ham Shank with Shredded Cabbage, Boiled New Potatoes, Fruit Salad, Baked Custard, Tea or Coffee or Substitutes.

Ham Shank with Shredded Cabbage

Split ham shank end, 1 medium head cabbage.

Wipe shank pieces with damp cloth, remove rind, place in kettle and cover with cold water. Cover and cook at low temperature (simmering) about 1½ to 2 hours. About 20 minutes before ham shank is done, add one medium sized head of cabbage which has been coarsely shredded. Continue cooking. Serve pieces of ham shank on a bed of shredded cabbage.

Baked Custard

Two or three eggs, ¼ c. sugar, ½ tsp. salt, 2 c. irradiated evaporated milk mixed with 1 c. boiling water or 3 c. scalded fresh milk, 1 tsp. vanilla, nutmeg.

Beat eggs, using 2 if you make the custard with the evaporated milk, or 3 if you use bottled milk. Add sugar and salt and continue beating until thoroughly blended, then add hot milk slowly, and vanilla. Pour into baking dish or custard cups which have been rinsed in cold water, sprinkle with nutmeg and set baking dish or custard cups in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until custard is set, or until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean.

PLEDGES FULL OPERATION FOR SMALL U. S. PLANTS

Federal Agency Head Says All Can Be Kept Busy.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—A federal agency came out flatly yesterday with a pledge of normal production or better for approximately 3,000 of the 3,500 small industrial plants described as "distressed" in these war times.

In testimony before the house appropriations committee on national war agencies appropriations for the next fiscal year, made public yesterday, Brig. Gen. R. W. Johnson, chairman of the smaller war plants corporation, indicated his belief his agency can perform this service for the smaller industries of the nation.

"There are approximately 3,500 plants distressed — operating at less than 66 2/3 per cent of normal—and we describe normal as before the war," General Johnson told the committee.

He said his agency could get them back into production of needed war or civilian goods, "given the right set-up and given no major change in the economy, and given the kind of an organization we require."

Summer Wedding Menus

By ALICE DENHOFF

Requests are coming in for summer wedding menus for both breakfast or reception. Brides these days want an easy task for the hostess, and more than that, they want their guests to be surprised. But more than that, a wedding should be gay, the most happy party to be part of a home party.

Fortunately many of the traditional wedding breakfast dishes are of the unrationed variety, so that such good old favorites as chicken salad, chicken patties or lobster salad chosen parties or casseroles. Read on for some ideas you may like to make with the delicious unrationed foods.

Wedding Breakfast

A summer wedding breakfast might well consist of strawberry cup, broiled chicken, hot biscuits, pearl ice cream, cubes cake, bonbons and beverages. Another menu consists of consomme hot or cold, chicken in a salad or a la king, olives, rolls, tomato cream or mousse, cubes cake, bonbons and beverages.

Still another menu might include consomme, hot or chilled, sweetbread and mushroom patties, molded fruit salad, cream dressing, strawberry or raspberry mousse, bride's cake, wedding cake, beverages.

Afternoon Buffet

An afternoon buffet offers plenty of latitude. Because of the coffee situation tea and chocolate make good substitutes. Tea permit of a variety of interesting possibilities. Tiny sweet cakes, lemon, tea and fruit cakes make a nice tray of accessories. Mint and cakes may be served separately placed in the center of the table. Cups of fruits such as orange, lemon, cherry and lemon are good for serving with tea. A tray of ice cubes flavored with mint, a slice of lemon or a nice accompaniment with iced tea.

Tiny cakes, petit fours, tea cakes bright with pink or green and the interest of brown and white sandwiches and tiny tidbit sandwiches accompany the salad at the buffet. Lobster salad, a few crisp hearts of sweet salad cubes and hearts of lettuce in the type of buffet the bride fillings of the sandwiches, ripe olives, nuts are taken for granted and are always welcome.

Sandwich Fillings

All sandwiches whether plain or fancy are very thinly sliced, have the crusts removed, then are cut into sticks, triangles or rounds. Chop dates, figs or sucked prunes, combine with an equal amount of chopped pecans or walnuts, moisten with fruit juice or cream and sweeten to taste. Spread on thin, soft white or brown bread, making four to six layers. Cut and cut in slices, giving a rubber, layer-cake effect. Thin cucumber rounds, chilled, dipped in salad dressing between rounds of thin buttered cream bread are delicious.

For another nice filling mix equal amounts of finely chopped pecans and black walnuts. Add enough mayonnaise thinned with orange juice, to make a paste and spread on buttered whole wheat bread.

New Manager Takes Charge of Paint Store

W. H. Pickard assumed the managership of the Color Center Paint Co. store at 136 South Main street Monday. He succeeds Thomas Henry of Bellefontaine, who acted as temporary manager for several weeks in the absence of a permanent one.

Mr. Pickard is a former resident of Chicago, where he was an employe of the James Stewart Co. He came to Marion in February when he accepted a position with the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

He is married and lives at 237 North Seffner avenue.

College Professor Scores Heat Win in Pace Event

Neil G. Boardman Is Victor, Races Fastest Mile.

By LOREN W. TIBBALS
Marion Star Sports Editor

NEIL G. BOARDMAN, professor of [illegible] at the University of South Dakota, scored a race victory with his bay horse Andrew Guy, in the 2:10 class pace, one of three events on today's Little Grand Circuit racing program at the half-mile county fairground track.

Prof. Boardman scored a pair of wins competing in the middle heat of the race, a hot contrary preaction to the 15 pace and trot events, but finished second in the final race standings to Bonnie Volo, a handsome bay gelding owned by Art Sherman of Lafayette, Ind., and driven by Clint Hodgins of Shelbyville, Ind. Bonnie Volo won the first and third heats with Andrew Guy in the runner-up spot each time.

Sets New Mile Mark

Andrew Guy's time in winning the middle heat was 2 07½, fastest mile of the meeting which opened a week ago today and which will close June 26, identical times of 2:10 were registered by Bonnie Volo in winning the other two heats.

The Colonel, a six-year-old 18-class pacer owning a record of 2:07, was a strong contender in all three heats, finishing 3-4-3. Owned by E. D. McQuown of Xenia, The Colonel was piloted last night by Byron Perry of Urbana. Perry guided the fast-stepping Xenia-owned pacer over the first quarter-mile of the opening heat in 30½ second, another record for the meeting and equivalent to the speed of horses in the 2.02 gait.

Over half of last night's contests, including all three in the 2:10 pace, were won by horses which were well back in the field at the halfway mark in each heat. For instance in the opening heat of the 2:10 pace event Bonnie Volo, fourth at the half, won in a brilliant dash to the wire. Andrew Guy, in the second heat, was fourth at the half and won in an even more thrilling sprint down the home stretch. In the final heat, over a nine-sixteenths of a mile course, Bonnie Volo, the winner took the lead but was strongly challenged by Andrew Guy, sixth at the halfway point.

"Big Name" Winners

Finishes of this type, regardless of the scoring time, makes for an exciting card one far more interesting than races in which one completely dominates the rest of the field.

Last night's feature events, 13-gait events in both racing divisions, were won by a pair of nationally famous drivers.

Bob Plaxico, third leading driver last season, won the pace event with Scott Volo Jr., owned by C. E. Baxter of Pontiac, Mich. Plaxico, a veteran Canton reinsman, finished first with the Michigan pacer in the first and third heats, the second being won by Tip Abbee, owned by R. W. Chaffin of Midland, Pa., and driven by Earl Rousch, also of Canton.

Samarcand, from the fruitful stable of Cleo A. Young of Timmonsville, S. C., finished first in one heat and second the other two to win the trotting event. Other heat winners were Mountain Maid, owned by J. J. Roy Jr. of Catskill, N. Y., and driven by Harry Craig of Cairo, N. Y., and Bellanbe, owned by Parker Mitchell of Perryman, Ind., and driven by Hugh Bell of 207 South State street.

Results of last night's races had little affect on the standings among the fairground driving colony. Guy Cartmill of Hanover, who last night, is the leading driver [illegible] heat winners, in[illegible] scored with The Wall[illegible] Abbe, a [illegible]-old pacer, and Earl Moody, who [illegible] five-year-old trotter, Mona Floyd.

Attendance 2,200

Attendance at last night's session was estimated by Race Secretary Frank M. Poole at 2,200. A late afternoon rain in some parts of Marion and in most of the adjacent counties reduced last night's attendance slightly. The fairground was one of the scattered sections of the city unaffected by the downpour. Yesterday was the third straight day in which rain shortly before post-time resulted in a drop off in attendance.

FREE-FOR-ALL TROT ON TONIGHT'S RACE PROGRAM

Feature event of tonight's nine-dash card, which is slated to start at 8:15, is the free-for-all trot matching six of the nation's best in this class. Entries in this event along with the records of each follow: Stardrift (2:03), Ellis Dean (2:03¼), Professor (2:02¼), Paxton Hanover (2 09½), Calumet Clifton (2:08) and Earl's Moody Guy (2:00). The latter entrant is from the nation's largest stable — that of Bob Plaxico of Canton.

ANOTHER DOUBLE FOR DAVIS

Hal Davis, California's great sprint star, crosses the finish line to win his second race of the day in the 220-yard dash in the N.C.A.A. track meet at Evanston, Ill. This duplicated his feat of winning the 100 and 220 last year. Jack Trout, right, of Southern California was second and Ed Conwell, background, of New York university finished fourth. Cliff Bourland, not shown, of Southern California, was third. Davis' time was 21.4 seconds. In winning the meet, Southern California chalked up its ninth consecutive N.C.A.A. title.

Set Own Par, Golf Pro Urges

Associated Press Features

NEW YORK—Forget the scorecard's perfect figures and set your own par.

That's Wiffy Cox's advice to golfers who want to enjoy their rounds on the links this summer.

"Too many players tear their hair, ruin their disposition and lose all the joy of playing because they worry too much about making pars," says Cox, one-time touring tournament player who recently became professional at the Hempstead Golf club on Long Island after several years at Congressional club in Washington.

"Those par figures on the card are set for the standout players and 95 per cent of our golfers can't be standouts because they lack ability, and don't have the time to improve whatever ability they do have.

Set Own Par

"Every golfer should establish a par of his own to conform with the limits of his own game. He will find that he will have lots more fun and, actually, his game will improve when he stops pressing in his efforts to get a scorecard par," he says.

"Swinging into a golf ball with its hundred different movements is an art in itself. The game requires considerable study and practice. In order to become good, a player has to groove the right swing so he can hit the ball automatically. A good teacher never gives a player too many things to think about, for he knows that a player who thinks too much on the course will forget the most important thing—to swing at the ball.

"A golfer owes it to himself to at least learn or be taught the fundamental principles of the game. He should take things in his stride and not try to learn too quickly. Through study and sound thought, he can acquire a swing that suits his height, strength, build and age.

Can't All Be Experts

"It is impossible for every player to become a champion or a standout. Some do not have coordination, or muscle sense. Some lack physical ability. Some do not have the necessary time for practice, or the money. Others can't throw off nervousness in competitive play. By not expecting too much of their game, golfers will improve much faster."

Cox suggests golfers should place themselves in one of these four classes:

Group A—70 to 80 shooters, handicaps 1 to 10. Their par should be 76.

Group B—80 to 90 shooters, handicaps 11 to 15. Par 85.

Group C—90 to 100 shooters, handicaps 16 to 20. Par 94.

Group D—100 plus shoters, handicaps 21 to 30. Par 103.

Wiffy says golfers can work out their own pars for each hole to fit their own game, considering the lentgh of the hole, the hazards, topography and wind conditions.

MAYNARD SNYDER TOP MAN IN SINGLES EVENT

His Four-Game Series of 770 Sets Scoring Pace.

Maynard Snyder won the weekly singles classic at the Palace Recreation Center Tuesday night with a four game series of 770. Thirteen bowlers, the smallest number in this summer event thus far, registered Tuesday night.

Second money was taken by B. Barber who rolled a 749 quartet. B. Buettin finished in show position with 733. Other four-game marks racked by keglers on the West Center street lanes included: Chapman 539, Johnson 702, Putman 700, Petrich 725, Yazel 725, D. Morgan 669, F. Messmore 683, R. Shoemaker 732, R. Maag 635 and M. Pinkerman 580.

H. Petrich rolled high single game of 227. Other over 200 scores were: Buettin 205, Snyder 201, Yazel 201 and 211, D. Morgan 202, R. Shoemaker 203, B. Barber 200 and 215, and L. Van Horn 207.

PLAYERS IN NEW UNIFORMS HAVE HAND IN TWO VICTORIES

Fischer Pitches Giants to 3-2 Win; Barna Helps Red Sox Edge Athletics.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major league players will break a leg to make good on their first appearance with a new club.

At least Danny Litwhiler ran right into a wall at Sportsman's park in his debut with the world champion St. Louis Cardinals after being traded by the Philadelphia Phillies, and other players have shown just as strong an urge to make an impressive beginning in a new uniform.

Connie Ryan, the day after he was traded to the Boston Braves by the New York Giants, hit the first home run of his major league career to beat his former teammates. Coaker Triplett bowed before his new followers at Philadelphia with a home run and a triple that beat the Braves.

These things have been going on for a long time and there were a couple of new chapters yesterday.

Beats Dodgers

Rube Fischer, the rugged, right-handed pitcher whom the Giants had just brought up from their Jersey City farm in the International league was ordered out onto the mound at the Polo Grounds against the Giants' bitter rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, and proceeded to pitch a seven-hit victory, 3-2, with the help of a two-run homer by his manager, Mel Ott.

At the same time Babe Barna, a promising slugger whose batting average was insignificant with the Giants, donned a Boston Red Sox uniform and helped win a game from the Philadelphia Athletics for his new affiliates.

Barna hit a ninth-inning double and scored the deciding run to give Yank Terry a 3-2 decision over the A's.

The Dodgers' loss was their third in a row, longest losing streak of the season for Brooklyn, but it did not cost them any additional ground in the National league pennant chase because the Cardinals also were beaten, 4-1 in 11 innings by the Cincinnati Reds.

Johnny Vander Meer and Howie Jollet hooked up in a lefthanded hurling duel in which each allowed only four hits and one run for ten innings. Then the Reds made four hits in the top half of the 11th, including a two-run double by Eddie Miller, to sew up the victory.

Phils Blank Braves

The Phillies took their third straight from the Braves 2-0 with Si Johnson pitching masterful three-hit ball despite the fact that the game was interrupted for 45 minutes by a practice blackout in Philadelphia.

The Pittsburgh Pirates opened with a three-run blast in the first inning and whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-2.

The games at St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia were all night contests and in addition the Washington Senators turned back the New York Yankees, American league leaders, under the floodlights of Griffith stadium.

The Senators were held to six hits, but Rookie Tommy Byrne had a spell of wildness in the eighth inning that helped them rally for five runs to win 8-3.

The St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox split a doubleheader, the Sox dropping the first 5-2 and running their losing string to five games and then coming back to win the nightcap 9-0.

Detroit and Cleveland were weathered out again.

Rene LaBell and Purple Phantom In Armory Main-Go Mat Match Tonight

Wild Bill Zimovich and Larry Kasaboski in Semi-Final.

Rene LaBell and the Purple Phantom will trade grips in the 10-round main-go event on the night's wrestling program at the Armory tonight.

As a result of uninterrupted series of victories in recent months, LaBell currently is the sensation of the weekly mat attractions. In his rise to the pinnacle of the local ring, the French Canadian has scored decisive victories over all-comers with the exception of rugged Farmer Jones, one of the game's most capable performers.

He is master of a seemingly endless number of bone crushing holds, but his outstanding advantage over all opponents has been his unusual speed and maneuverability. In tackling opponents anywhere from 10 to 25 pounds heavier than himself, LaBell has turned a number of matches into track meets. His style is even more effective because he has capitalized on this advantage by adopting a hit and run attack.

This procedure has been the principal cause for the downfall of a major share of his more cumbersome foes.

To round out tonight's all-star card, Promoter Les Fishbaugh has matched Larry "Babe" Kasaboski, another Canadian, against Wild Bill Zimovich, the Niagrauga tornado in the one-hour semi-final scrap and Johnny Vansky and Soldier Thomas in the 30-minute event.

The half-hour preliminary will open the card at 8:30.

Cleveland To Oppose Detroit in Doubleheader

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 17—The Cleveland Indians oppose the Detroit Tigers in their first twilight-night doubleheader of the season this evening.

Postponement of the series opener for the second time yesterday caused the Tribe management to schedule the twin bill.

Jim Bagby and Jack Salveson are the Tribal hurling choices against Hal Newhouser and Paul (Dizzy) Trout.

PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO NAME "BIG 3" TO KEEP SPORTS GOING

Army, Navy and Civilian Are Likely To Be Chosen for Wartime Service.

By CHARLES MOLONY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, June [illegible] President Roosevelt was reported by a prominent sports figure today to have decided on appointing a committee of three [illegible] and one representative each from the Army and Navy to study a solution of the war-born problems confronting organized sport.

This source, who asked to remain anonymous, said he had been told that the civilian under consideration was a man more widely identified in the past [illegible] than sports circles.

The function of the trio, he said, would be to provide an outlet for the wartime plaints of the sporting world and to make recommendations to the President on what could be done to keep athletics going for the duration.

Both in and out of congress there has been agitation for an agency of this sort, with some urging appointment of a sports coordinator or "czar".

News of the committee's [illegible] followed organization yesterday of a federally-sponsored group to develop and promote a thoroughgoing program of physical fitness throughout the nation, with special view to building up youth to meet draft standards and keeping war workers in top shape.

This committee, composed of three members, will rely on state and community organizations such as schools and colleges to carry out suggested programs, as it has no directive authority, members say.

Its creator, Paul V. McNutt, who controls selective service and war manpower commissioner, is in excellent position to deal with sports' biggest wartime trouble, the loss of manpower to the draft, but members said the committee would ask no special draft deferment for athletes.

Representing professional sports on the committee is George [illegible] Trautman, president of baseball's American Association, while the colleges are represented by [illegible] Bushnel, Ivy league chief, and John L. Griffith, the Big Ten commissioner.

WILLIE PEP IN NAVY

By The Associated Press

HARTFORD, Conn., June 17—Little Willie Pep, who has been defeated only once in nearly 70 professional fights, was sworn into the Navy yesterday at the Hartford induction center.

The SPORTSMAN

JUNGLECOCK CREED

You will soon see the "Creed of the Jungle Cock" at the Ohio inland lakes and along the streams. The division of conservation and natural resources has endorsed the Jungle Cock crusade as a means of promoting clean sportsmanship in Ohio. Field men of the division of conservation will cooperate with sportsmen's clubs throughout Ohio in posting waters and advancing the "take a boy a-fishing" program included in the Jungle Cock movement... preferably an underprivileged boy and to teach him the ethics of sportsmanship by companionship and example.

Maryland, North Carolina, Maine, Virginia, Oregon and many other states are inaugurating a Jungle Cock movement originated by the Outdoor Writers association of America. Alaskan lakes and streams are being posted this month in spite of the "little affair with the Japs" according to Earl Ohmer, former Dayton, Ohio, man, who is chairman of the Alaska Fish and Game Commission.

* * *

BASS SEASON

The entire state of Ohio will be open to bass fishing after Wednesday, June 16, with the exception of the Lake Erie district and Pymatuning reservoir, which will open July 1.

Conservation Commissioner Don Waters also announced that all fish safety zones in Ohio streams and fish sanctuaries in Ohio lakes, except the permanent sanctuaries in the lakes under the control of the Ohio division of conservation and natural resources which are plainly marked with red and white signs, will be thrown open to public fishing on June 16. In the southern black bass area these were opened June 1.

The only Ohio lakes under the Division's supervision that are closed are Fostoria Waterworks Reservoir, No. 4, Hancock county; Spots lake, Henry county; Stewart-Hollow lake in the Scioto Trail State Forest in Ross county and one of the Division's newly created headwater lakes, Harrison Lake in Fulton county.

THIS AND THAT

There won't be as many wildlife food patches on a co-operative basis this year... Conservation Division officials, not surprised because of war conditions, report a dropping off in acreage but they are utilizing all waste land on state-owned tracts, state forests and some plantings were made on Muskaum watershed lands.

Floods during the latter part of May made plenty of work for the Ohio Division of Conservation... fish and game were stranded... much game killed... state parks were flooded and needed repairs ...fish management agents were compelled to check low dams for damage...Ohio game protectors made 82 arrests during the month of May and obtained an equal number of convictions, according to Conservation Commissioner Don Waters... Fines totalled $2,020, with costs of $312.30, of which $185 in fines and $5 in costs were remitted. "We are having good crowds" says a letter from one of the Indian Lake business men... Conservation Division officials say they don't expect a drop-off in attendance at these parks, especially over weekends... people will use the recreational facilities nearest to them, of course...Art Hyde, formerly Assistant Editor of the Ohio Conservation Bulletin, is now in Uncle Sam's army

Predicament
If you lose your Ration Book

Applicants must advertise in a local newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the applicant resides on which the ration book or coupons were lost at least twice within 10 days after application to the local board. Description of the missing books or coupons as listed in the application must be stated in the advertisement.

A copy of the advertisement must be mailed to C. C. Holliday, chief clerk of the local board.

At the end of 10 day the applicant may appear before the local board and upon showing a copy of the advertisement and stating the loss has been reported to police and that the missing books or coupons have not been returned, replacements will be issued.

Rev. Marvin Lewis To Speak Again at Citadel

Rev. Marvin Lewis of Marion spoke last night in the Salvation Army citadel on the eighteenth verse, chapter 26, book of the Acts of the Aposiles. "Six outstanding things are presented to us in this text," he declared, "Revelation, 'to open their eyes'; repentance, 'turn them from darkness to light'; release, 'from the power of Satan'; remission, 'that they may receive forgiveness'; riches, 'and inheritance'; reservation, 'among the sanctified'." Another service will be held tonight at 7:45. The public is invited.

Personal ancestors are deified in Japan.

ALTERCATION AT BUS CO. GARAGE LEADS TO ARREST

Wyant Stiverson Faces Assault and Battery Charge.

Wyant Stiverson, 38, of 416 Davids street was arrested by city police last night on an assault and battery warrant filed by Fred Maag of 689 East Center street. Stiverson was released by police later last night pending his arraignment in municipal court this afternoon.

According to police, Maag accused Stiverson of striking him several times with his fist at the Marion Rapid Transit Co. garage on North State street where both men were employed before Wednesday. This took place about 12:45 p. m. Wednesday. Maag said the attack was unprovoked.

Maag suffered hand and leg bruises and a lacerated scalp as a result of the scuffle.

OATS PRICE DOWN IN WEAK MARKET

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 17 — Oats dropped more than a cent at times today in a generally weak grain market. Government efforts to get corn into trade channels, reports that another steamer of Canadian oats was on the way here and more favorable weather for crop growth made traders pessimistic about oats.

Selling of wheat, some of which was hedging, pushed the bread cereal down almost a cent, but fairly good demand developed at $1.42 for the July contract. An expanding harvest area in the southwest and more liberal receipts at markets in that area were depressing influences.

Selective Advances Noted But Buying Is Light; Price Control Watched.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 17—Selective advances again ruled today's stock market operations in one of the slowest full sessions of the year.

Bullish contingents still were inclined to proceed carefully pending more light on Washington's price-control plans and an expected big allied move in Europe. Wall Street was encouraged by indications corporate incomes would not be taxed at higher rates during 1943 but 1944 prospects remained cloudy.

Scattered rails, steels, motors, rubbers, utilities and specialties managed to acquire modest plus signs at the start. While fractional gains were in the majority near the fourth hour—there were a few wider spreads—minor declines were plentiful.

Attracting support were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Hudson & Manhattan common and preferred, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Sinclair Oil, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Western Union, Texas Co., Westinghouse and International Nickel. Occasional losers included Bethlehem, Anaconda, General Motors, Deere, Montgomery Ward and United Aircraft.

Bonds were steady and commodities narrowly uneven.

In the curb bids were forthcoming for Electric Bond & Share, American Cyanamid "B," Mesabi Iron and Brazilian Traction. Heftiancy was exhibited by Aluminum of America, Gulf Oil and St. Regis Paper.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

SOMETHING in my father's tone quickened my interest.

"You mean she will try to stage something here at that hour in the morning?" I queried.

"I don't know," my father said, and his voice was worried. "You see, I had planned on trapping her tomorrow morning, and then if I had evidence enough against her on what she has planned to do to you,—and believe me, my dear Katharine, she has planned plenty—I would not have had to subject Hal Meredith to another blackmailing interview from her.

"But," he continued, "this scheduled performance tomorrow morning is made to order for me. I will have officers hidden who will see her take the satchel from Olina. The bills it will contain are all marked. And wherever she goes with it, she will be trailed. What I particularly want to find out is whether she takes it to Steve Redfield, or whether she pockets the money herself. I think she will take it to Redfield, and one of my theories will be proved. Then, as I want to prove something more than a tool, I shall have to stage a meeting with Meredith where she undoubtedly will repeat her blackmail threats, with unseen listeners to make notes, and literally deliver her into my hands.

Can't Protect Madge

"But," he finished, "as I will not be ready tonight for the final showdown with her, I do not see how I am going to protect you, Margaret, from unpleasantness. We can secrete Katharine in the adjoining apartment—"

"I am not going to hide behind Madge's skirts!" Katharine interrupted hotly.

"My dear girl!" My father's tone was one with which one chides an unreasonable child. "It is not for you to say what you will or will not do. I have undertaken to protect Jack, and to bring this Hayes woman to justice. You must permit me to do it in my own way."

Katharine's face flushed. "I didn't mean—" she faltered.

"Of course you didn't," my father said, his tone as soothing as it just had been censorious, "and, of course your sentiments do you credit. It is simply that I cannot afford to indulge in sentiment when issues of life and death are at stake, or to permit anyone associated with me to do so. But in the meantime, we have a very real problem. Have you any suggestions, Margaret, as to how best to deal with Ruth Hayes?"

Suggests Dicky

"I know one person who could deal with her most effectively," I said.

"Who is that?" he asked quickly.

"Dicky," I replied calmly.

My father struck his hands together in an exasperated little gesture.

"Bless my soul!" he exclaimed. "Of course! I never thought of him. Will you call him, or shall I?"

"May I?" I asked, smiling at him.

"Of course," he answered. "Ask him how soon he can come over, and tell him I want him to stay the night. He will know what to do so that Ronald can carry on with Harry."

Telephones Her Husband

I went immediately to the telephone, with the lift the prospect of talking to my husband always gives me. He is so full of life and optimism himself that he infects everybody else with his good cheer. And I knew how he would delight in taking on an antagonist like Ruth Hayes.

"Dicky?" I querled banally enough as his "Hello!" came over the wire.

"No, this is not Dicky, my good woman," he said in lofty accents. "This is the secretary of His Lordship of Tut Tut. Will you state your errand, please?"

"Don't shoot, I'll come down!" I exclaimed laughing. "But this is important. There's something special on, and Father wants you to come over as soon as possible, prepared to spend the night."

The Stars Say—

For Friday, June 18

THE LUNAR aspects of this day must be considered as generally adverse. There is much danger of being carried to disagreeable extremes or irregularities of conduct, through treachery. Shun all intrigues and erratic friction or discord with elders, superiors or those in authority, make plans on upright and straightforward lines, and all may turn out satisfactorily.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of curious or peculiar events. The forces and mentality may be chaotic and confused, prompting unwise behavior. This may be largely owing to antagonisms or breaks with those in powerful positions. With regard for the health, proper management of hunches or urges for a sane and balanced court of action, all may ultimately be gratifying and inaugurate some unexpected benefits.

A child born on this day may have additional talents, and be studious and profound, but certain erratic or confused tendencies may turn its benefactors against it. Supervision of its mental and nervous tension is recommended.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Nail Polish.

THE VARIOUS eruptions on the skin of the hands which are so common in housewives can be divided into five or six classes. The commonest of all—as is likely to be the case in skin eruptions on the hands of anybody—are those due to ringworm infection.

The housewife macerates the skin of her hands in hot, soapy dishwater and makes it an easy field for entrance of the little spores of the ringworm which are scattered around on the arms of chairs, window ledges, in fact, nearly everywhere in our modern civilization.

Another large group are allergic or contact forms of dermatitis. Besides plant contacts, if she has a garden, the housewife may make contact with soaps, cleansing powders, dyes, polishes and many other substances which in about five per cent of people cause a dermatitis.

In this group—not strictly speaking of housewives—is nail polish eczema. This occurs not particularly frequently, but often enough to make it a troublesome condition in those who use nail polish, particularly of the darker and more ornate kinds.

While nail polish eczema usually appears first on the skin around the nail beds and at the ends of the fingers, it may fool everybody for a long time by appearing on the face and eyelids, which the patient touches with her recently polished nails. In order of frequency, after the fingers and eyelids, the location for this eczema may be the neck, groin, cheeks, tips of the ears and the arm pits.

In studying a group of these cases it was found that it was not the dye in the polish which caused the eruption; colorless lacquer produced it almost as often as the colored nail polish. Skin patch tests done on a series of patients with 25 substances used in the manufacture of nail polish showed that a substance called formaldehyde-sulphonamide resin was the only one which gave a positive reaction in the patients and a negative reaction in the control subjects.

The control subjects were those who were not sensitive to polish or lacquer and who did not have an eczema. This causative agent, this resin, is widely used in modern manufacturing. Such familiar household objects as imitation leathers, glass beads, metal jewelry, hairpins, pencils, celluloid playing cards and straw hats may be encoated with this resin.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. R.—Would a surgical operation for varicose veins be dangerous for a person with tuberculosis? Would elevating the leg and applying ice packs about five minutes each day be of any benefit?

Answer: Varicose veins are best treated, not by operation but by injecion. They are not dangerous in a person with tuberculosis. Treatment by elevating the leg and applying an ice pack is merely palliative and will do no permanent good.
